Warren County's initial investment in a proposed regional airport at Mt. Alto in McKean County would be $48,000.

Extension of the present facility calls for an $800,000 investment—$400,000 allocated by the Federal Aviation Agency and an additional $400,000 provided in matched funds—

$200,000 by the state of Pennsylvania and $200,000 by a five-county area.

County Commissioners from Warren, Cameron, Elk, McKean and Potter counties met in Smethport yesterday with members of the Bradford Aviation Commission to further discuss the regional airport plan as first outlined in January.

A motion by Warren County Commissioner, D. H. Lay, that the project be financed over a four-year period was approved. Commissioner Blair M. Mead, also at yesterday's meeting, voted no. Commissioner Lewis L. Crippen was not present at the session since he was in Erie meeting with his appointed committees on the Northwest Pennsylvania Regional Planning and Development Commission.

The board of commissioners in each county involved in setting up an authority to accept conveyance of the Bradford Airport property from the City of Bradford is asked to pass a resolution to that effect. Such a body will be known as Bradford Northern Tier Airport Authority.

Board members of the Authority will be ten in number apportioned as follows: Warren, two; McKean four; Potter, two; Elk, one; and Cameron, one. Members will serve staggered terms over a five-year period. Individual appropriations by county as well as board representation on the proposed authority were based on market value and population.

Passenger and air freight traffic also figures in the proposition with Warren County's accumulated percentage being 24.01 per cent and McKean's 44.38 per cent.

A statement from Allegheny Airlines Inc., presented at yesterday's session and for the month of November, 1966 only, listed Warren's outbound passenger traffic as 13.2 per cent, Warren and other Warren

IRVINE BRIDGE DETOUR ESTABLISHED

This sign, just north of the intersection of Routes 62 and 69 in North Warren, was put up yesterday after the bridge at Irvine was closed to trucks. The bridge was closed after some trusses were found shattered. Trucks weighing more than a ton and a half will be detoured over Route 69 to Route 27 into Youngsville. (Photo by Cullinane)

Route 6 Bridge Restricted

Broken trusses forced a closing of the Route 6 bridge at Irvine to heavy trucks and vehicles yesterday afternoon.

Automobiles and trucks up to one and one-half tons will not be affected by the order, Merle See, county superintendent of highways, told the Times-Mirror and Observer.

The structure was closed at 4 p.m. when flagmen were placed. It is hoped to have the necessary repairs made to permit normal traffic over the bridge Monday morning.

The bridge, which carries Route 6 traffic over Brokenstraw Creek, was weakened when some trusses were found shattered. The closing of the structure to heavy vehicles was instituted immediately.

Heavy trucks and vehicles above the one and one-half ton limit will be detoured to North Warren and over Route 69 to Route 27 into Youngsville.

Flagmen have been placed at Warren and Youngsville to assist truckers in the necessary detour while bridge repairs are made.

Cuba Will Train Eritrea Guerrillas

By ERIC PACE

(C) N.Y. Times News Service
ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia — Cuba has agreed to train guerrilla fighters for an Eritrean secessionist movement that has been waging a mounting campaign of terror and harassment against the central government of Emperor Haile Selassie, informed sources disclosed Wednesday.

Eritrea, bordering the Red Sea, abuts the northern edge of Ethiopia. In 1890, Eritrea became an Italian colony. British administration of the area, which began after World War II, ended when the United Nations general assembly voted to return it to Ethiopia in 1952. At present it is an autonomous state federated with Ethiopia.

The informants, who declined to be identified, said the Moslem officers of the secessionist Eritrean Liberation Army (E.L.A.) had also been making arrangements to send men to Communist China for schooling in terrorist techniques. About 70 per cent of Eritrea's 1.5 million population is Moslem.

A number of Moslem Arab countries have reportedly been funneling money and equipment to the E.L.A. and its political arm, the Eritrean Liberation Front. The organizations want full independence from the predominantly Christian Ethiopian regime.

Egypt and Saudi Arabia, rivals for influence in the Moslem world, have been among the principal supporters of the secessionist movement.

Armed with mortars and bazookas, and with heavier artillery reportedly hidden in reserve, the E.L.A. terrorists have been waylaying trucks and disrupting rail traffic. Well-organized despite the fact that they have no single outstanding leader, the liberation movement is a continual embarrassment to the emperor and the 6,000 government troops now garrisoned in Eritrea.

Thus far, the terrorists, who have no clearly defined ideological leanings, have not been effective enough to pose an immediate threat to the political throne of Emperor Haile Selassie.

OVER POWELL CASE

Judiciary-House Battle Seen

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House appears headed for a historic clash with the federal judiciary if the courts should rule that the chamber exceeded its authority in voting to exclude Adam Clayton Powell from membership.

Most congressional circles expect these two things to happen shortly: Powell will run and win in the special election to fill his seat, and the Harlem preacher's lawyers will file federal court action to reverse the exclusion action they have already termed unconstitutional.

Several opponents of the House's exclusion action reiterated yesterday in speeches or statements their fear that the Rep. Albert W. Johnson, Republican from Pennsylvania's 23rd District, which includes Warren County, voted in favor of the bill which excluded Adam Clayton Powell from the House of Representatives.

House may have made a serious blunder Wednesday in blocking a select committee's recommendation to seat but censure Powell.

"I believe that future events will prove that we made a serious mistake," freshman GOP Rep. Donald W. Riegle of Michigan told the House. And Rep. Glen R. Davis, R-Wis., predicted Powell "will soon be back — with his pocketbook and his ar-

Kennedy Proposes Bombing Suspension Of North Vietnam

By HEDRICK SMITH

(C) N.Y. Times News Service

WASHINGTON — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy proposed yesterday an indefinite suspension of American bombing of North Vietnam to try to open the way for peace talks on Vietnam.

In a major foreign policy speech on the Senate floor, the New York Democrat offered a three-stage plan looking toward a settlement of the war. He differed with President Johnson's present tactics in the search for peace and suggested an opportunity was being missed. But he supported the administration's policy of "limited war objectives" and military restraint.

The three-stage approach outlined by Kennedy in a 45-minute speech, called for:

—Testing the sincerity of Communist declarations by halting bombing of the North and "saying we are ready to negotiate within the week."

—If negotiations are started, seeking agreement with the Communists not to "substantially increase" the scale of war in South Vietnam by "infiltration or reinforcement." Kennedy urged that an international group oversee compliance with this provision.

—With an "international presence" gradually replacing American troops, the two sides should work toward a final settlement that would allow all major political elements in South Vietnam — Communists as well as non-Communists — to participate in elections to select a national leadership and to determine South Vietnam's future course.

The administration reacted immediately. Secretary of State Dean Rusk issued a statement tonight saying that proposals "substantially similar" to Kennedy's were explored before, during and after the latest Tet ceasefire "without result."

In a letter to Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., released last night, Johnson reaffirmed his refusal to halt the bombing unless the Communists "take equivalent action to end the war."

In a debate on the floor of the United States should do more, that it should "test the sincerity" of statements by the Soviet Premier, Alexei N. Kosygin, and others, that, "if the bombardment of the North is halted, negotiations would begin."

Kennedy acknowledged that Communist leaders had more conflicting statements. But he suggested that the administration follow the tactic used by President Kennedy in the Cuban missile crisis of 1962, by choosing to respond to the most favorable Communist statement.

He criticized what he called

Unnamed Informant Provides Kennedy Conspiracy Evidence

By JOHN LANG

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) —

Search documents showed yesterday that Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison maintains he has evidence that Lee Harvey Oswald, Clay L. Shaw and David W. Ferrie met in September 1963 to discuss "how they would kill John F. Kennedy, President of the United States."

The documents said the evidence about the meetings came from an unnamed informant, whose statements were corroborated while the informant was under the influence of sodium pentothal, or truth serum.

Oswald was named by the Warren Commission report as Kennedy's lone assassin. Shaw, former director of the International Trade Mart here, was arrested by Garrison on Wednesday night and booked on conspiracy to commit murder. Ferrie, a pilot, died in bed last week while under investigation by Garrison's office.

In an application for a warrant to search Shaw's French Quarter residence Wednesday night, the district attorney's office stated:

"The reason and facts for the request of this search warrant are:

"Affiant has evidence that meetings were held in the apartment of David W. Ferrie at 3330 Louisiana Avenue Parkway and the people present were David W. Ferrie, Clay Shaw (alias Clay Bertrand), and Lee Harvey Oswald and an informant and other persons. These meetings were held in September 1963, and the above named individuals, namely David W. Ferrie, Lee Harvey Oswald and Clay Shaw (alias Clay Bertrand) were discussing how they would kill John F. Kennedy, President of the United States. At these meetings, there was an agreement and combination among Clay Shaw (alias Clay Bertrand), Lee Harvey Oswald, and David W. Ferrie and others to kill John F. Kennedy. At these meetings there was discussion and agreement to carry out this conspiracy."

At a news conference yesterday, Shaw called his arrest "fantastic." Speaking calmly and at times smiling broadly, Shaw insisted that he had no part in any plot to kill Kennedy.

"I did not know Harvey Lee Oswald (sic) nor to the best of my knowledge do I know anyone who knew him," Shaw said. "I have never seen or spoken to Oswald. I am shocked and dismayed at the charges which have been filed against me. I am completely innocent of any such charges."

Earlier in the day, the new U.S. attorney general, Ramsey Clark, said the FBI had investigated the case.

Hoffa Seeks Court Delay On Beginning Prison Term

By CHRIS FRENCH

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)

—Teamsters Union President

James R. Hoffa asked a federal judge yesterday to give him until April 1 to begin serving an eight-year sentence for jury tampering.

Attorneys for Hoffa maintained that additional time was needed for the orderly transfer of Teamsters business and for Hoffa to participate in current contract talks with the nation's trucking industry.

U.S. Dist. Judge Frank W. Wilson, who ordered Wednesday that Hoffa report by Tuesday morning to begin the sentence, took the motion under advisement. A ruling is expected sometime Friday.

Hoffa's request was presented by P. D. Makos of Washington, one of the union leader's lawyers, and supported by various union and management representatives.

Makos said Hoffa's presence is urgently needed this month during negotiations for a nationwide contract with the 11,000-member Trucking Industry Committee. The present contract expires March 31.

"Hoffa helped stop wildcat strikes around the nation after the Supreme Court ruled against him (on Dec. 12)," he said, adding that Hoffa's presence at the bargaining table would spur current talks to a successful conclusion.

Supporting the motion were John Bridge of Chicago, executive chairman of the Motor Carrier Labor Council, and Howard Miller of Pittsburgh, Pa., a member of the trucking industry's negotiating committee.

A delay in Hoffa's reporting date was opposed by Theodore G. Gilinski, a Justice Department lawyer, who said no date to begin the sentence would be satisfactory to Hoffa.

"And any extension would only add to the problems," he said.

Earlier yesterday, a spokesman for the Federal Bureau of Prisons in Washington said no final decision had been made, but it is probable that Hoffa will be sent to the federal prison at Lewisburg, Pa., after he reports here.

Hoffa and three others were convicted here three years ago next Saturday of seeking to influence jurors who heard— and failed to reach a verdict in— Hoffa's 1962 conspiracy trial in Nashville.

Since Hoffa was sentenced, he has been free on $75,000 bond while he carried his appeal twice to the U.S. Supreme Court, but Judge Wilson ordered an end to his freedom Wednesday.

Shafer Urges Inter-State Tax Compacts

SCOTCH PLAINS, N.J. (AP)—Gov. Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania urged the adoption of a proposed interstate tax compact yesterday as a means of securing tax uniformity for businesses operating in two or more states.

Shafer warned that if the states did not take the initiative in this area of tax reform, Congress would enact legislation unacceptable to state governments.

The governor made the recommendation in a speech prepared for a Lincoln Day Dinner here.

"For the past several sessions of Congress, several Congressmen have been working diligently to curtail the jurisdiction of the states and local governments to tax businesses engaged in multistate business activities," Shafer said. "If the states don't act now, this will happen and another tax base will be taken from the states."

Shafer said he planned to ask the Pennsylvania General Assembly to approve the compact, endorsed by the National Governor's Conference, during the current legislative session.

"If we don't take action at the state level, we deserve to lose this base," Shafer said.

County at 2.0 per cent. Allegheny's arithmetic, however, appeared somewhat faulty since their total was 18.18 per cent rather than an obvious 15.2 per cent.

Warren County during November of last year had 286 air freight shipments, weighing 28,126 lbs. and representing 30 per cent of that month's shipments via the Bradford airport.

Commissioner Mead told the Times-Mirror and Observer that originally the federal government was to construct a $70,000, fully equipped radio tower at the facility. He stated, however, this deal has fallen through and the federal agency now seeks to lease this facility after construction. According to Mead, this means the proposed authority would also have to finance this construction.

Mead added that he still has been unable to receive a direct answer as to future costs to Warren County in addition to the $48,000 initial share. McKean's share, with the proposed regional airport situated in that county, is about $98,000, according to the Warren County commissioner.

It was also noted that Allegheny Airlines, Inc., except for purchasing gasoline and oil at the airport site, contributes nothing other than service.

The FAA and the Pennsylvania Aeronautical Commission has offered grants of $400,000 and $200,000 respectively to finance a "glamor" or modern airport at the Mt. Alto location. County cooperation could mean an extended runway to accommodate jet flights as well as other sophisticated facilities to provide all weather, year-round flights.

McKean County spokesmen admitted that their county could no longer carry the airport alone and invited other counties to participate in jet age expansion. At the January meeting, Warren County Commissioner Lewis L. Crippen noted the $2 million already invested in the Bradford-McKean Airport should not be thrown away and a regional airport would provide a "core" to develop better air traffic for the entire region.

The next move is up to the commissioners in the five counties involved. The federal government must have its answer by June 1.

Probe

Atty. Gen. Clark was asked in Washington if Shaw had been checked out by the FBI and found clear in the assassination. "That's right," Clark replied. The search warrant showed that the objects taken from Shaw's luxurious home included five whips, pieces of chain, two pieces of leather, one black hood and cape, a shotgun and case and an Army cartridge belt.

The name Clay Bertrand was first mentioned in 1963 by Dean Andrews Jr., a local attorney who only yesterday was subpoenaed by Garrison for questioning.

Andrews told investigators that shortly after Oswald was arrested in Dallas, Tex., a man named Clay Bertrand telephoned him and asked him to represent Oswald. The Warren Commission said it found no man named Bertrand involved.

Shaw, who was released on $10,000 bond Wednesday night, issued a statement yesterday in which he expressed shock at his arrest and denied taking part in a plot to kill Kennedy.

"I am shocked and dismayed at the charges which have been filed against me," he said. "I am completely innocent of any such charges. I have not conspired with anyone at any time or any place to murder our late and esteemed president, John F. Kennedy, or any other individual."

"I've always had only the highest and utmost respect and admiration for Mr. Kennedy. I do not know Harvey Lee Oswald nor to the best of my knowledge do I know anyone who knew him. I have never seen or spoken to Oswald where anyone I knew was associated with him."

In answer to a question about the name "Clay Bertrand," Shaw said: "I don't know of any Clay Bertrand and I never used any aliases."

Asked about Ferrie, he said: "I never met, as far as I know, Mr. Dave Ferrie. I was never in his apartment."

Shaw said Garrison had first contacted him about last Christmas time.

A preliminary hearing for Shaw has been set for March 14. It was requested by Garrison—an unusual step for the prosecution. Guy Johnson, attorney for Shaw, said "We do not understand the motivation of Mr. Garrison."

It was bargain day at the Vellor Mortenson farm on Gibbs Hill in Ludlow over the weekend. Some one entered his chicken coop, took 30 hens and left $8 and a note explaining that, since he was not at home, the customers had served themselves. He valued the hens, all layers, at from $1.50 to $2. Additional fowl, consisting of 50 hens and 150 pullets were not disturbed by the intruders.

Red China Army's Founder Tells Mao Purge a Wreck

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Aging Marshal Chu Teh, who founded Red China's army, told party Chairman Mao Tse-tung to his face that his purge wrecked the nation, says a Hungarian reporter back from Peking.

The meeting between the two old comrades in arms was described as stormy. Now Chu is under strong attack by Maoists in Peking.

The reporter, Tibor Varkonyi, said reports circulated in Peking that a similar meeting took place between Mao and President Liu Shao-chi, but he gave no details.

Before the cultural revolution, or purge, broke over Red China last summer, Liu was No. 2 man to Mao in the party hierarchy and Chu was No. 4, behind premier Chou En-lai. Both Liu and Chu are assailed in speeches and wall posters as Mao's foes who follow a capitalist, pro-Soviet line.

Writing Wednesday in the Budapest daily Magyar Nemzet, Varkonyi did not say when the meetings occurred. But Maoists began assailing Chu on Jan. 13. Varkonyi gave this account of the meeting between Mao and Chu:

"According to news leaking out from that meeting, the occasion was a very stormy one. Mao called on the marshal, who had been silent for a long time, to exercise self-criticism for not having supported the cultural revolution.

"Chu Teh rejected the proposal. He said that the person who should practice self-criticism was Mao himself because it was under his name and leadership that China had been internally wrecked in a few months and its prestige abroad smashed.

"At this, Mao was very angry and behaved violently. But finally he said he would be satisfied if Chu Teh, without any self-criticism, would write a series of articles in the newspapers in which he would unconditionally take the side of the cultural revolution.

"But Chu Teh rejected this categorically and the two politicians parted in anger without saying goodbye. When this news was leaked, the opponents of Mao Tse-tung were encouraged."

Varkonyi said the reports circulated in Peking about the meeting of President Liu and Mao said Liu had been stripped of his functions. Diplomats in Peking also have reported this but there has been no official announcement.

Philly Catholic Schools To Open in Face of Strike

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Roman Catholic schools in the Philadelphia Archdiocese will remain open even if there is a strike by lay teachers, Msgr. Edward T. Hughes, the archdiocesan superintendent of schools, said yesterday.

The lay teachers, at a meeting Wednesday night, voted to strike 28 high schools in the archdiocese by Wednesday in a bid for more money and union recognition.

It is believed to be the first time in the church's history that lay teachers have voted to strike a diocesan school system.

There are 655 lay teachers and about 1,300 religious-order teachers in a high school system that serves 58,164 pupils in Montgomery, Chester, Delaware, Bucks and Philadelphia counties.

John J. Murray, president of the Association of Catholic Teachers, said the vote to strike was 172 to 117. More than 100 teachers abstained from the voting, but Murray said all at the meeting agreed to support the strike. The date of the strike was left to the association's executive committee, Murray said he would do everything possible to reach an agreement with the archdiocese before the strike begins.

"In justice to the children in our schools we can not and will not let a decision by 172 teachers force us to close our schools," said Msgr. Hughes.

Inter-Faith Center Fund Explained at Oil City

The first meeting of Oil City business- and civic leaders in preparation for a fund campaign on behalf of the proposed Inter-Faith Center of Warren State Hospital was held yesterday noon at the Holiday Inn with 25 persons attending.

William E. Rice of Warren, a past president of the Inter-Faith Center board of directors, described the program of recent efforts to raise $600,000 from the 13 counties which are served by Warren State Hospital.

The hospital's two full-time chaplains, the Rev. Franklin Hagberg and Father Mark Roueque attended the luncheon meeting and told of the great need for an inspirational structure.

The project was conceived about 18 months ago and since then more than $250,000 has been contributed toward the goal. Warren County residents have contributed about $100,000 and the rest has come from campaigns in several other counties.

The Reverend Donald Spencer presided at the meeting which was attended also by James Blomquist and Charles Tranter of Warren, the latter serving as campaign director.

ICC Requests Legislation To Aid Trains

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission asked Congress yesterday for legislation that would, in effect, make it more difficult for railroads to discontinue passenger trains.

At present, the ICC has four months during which it must decide whether to allow a railroad to discontinue passenger service. Under this proposal, the period would be lengthened to seven months and the ICC could require the railroad to operate the trains for an extra two months if more time was needed to complete its investigation into the matter.

He said the lay teachers had signed individual contracts promising to teach for the school year "and in signing these contracts they made a commitment not only to the archdiocese but to the children," who he said had been accepted into the schools only because the teachers had contracts to teach.

In a proposed contract submitted to Archbishop John J. Krol, the association asked for a minimum starting salary of $5,000 a year and a maximum salary of $10,000, starting next September. The proposed schedule is below wages of public school teachers in Philadelphia, who next year will earn $6,100 minimums and $12,000 maximums.

Msgr. Hughes on Tuesday had offered a new set of wages and other benefits, effective in September. His proposals would equalize salary scales of men and women, provide a starting salary of $4,800 increasing to $7,800 after 20 years; free lunches, and a "modest number" of graduate study grants.

Sam Newhouse Buys Cleveland Plain Dealer

(C) N.Y. Times News Service NEW YORK — Samuel I. Newhouse purchased the 125-year-old Cleveland Plain Dealer yesterday, reportedly for $50 million.

In the biggest acquisition of his 45 years as a publisher, Newhouse bought 90 per cent of the newspaper's stock from the Forest City Publishing Company, which owned the Cleveland newspaper.

A reliable source said Newhouse had paid $500 a share for 100,000 shares. He is expected to offer to buy the remaining 10 per cent of the stock from minority stockholders today the source said.

The purchase of the Cleveland Plain Dealer brought to 22 the number of newspapers owned wholly or partly by the Newhouse chain. The Plain Dealer, with a daily circulation of 377,089 and Sunday circulation of 526,401, is now the largest in the chain.

Thomas Vail, the Cleveland newspaper's 40-year-old publisher and editor, will retain complete responsibility for the operation of the newspaper.

Don't Deny the Right to Vote

On May 17, those in Warren County qualified to cast their ballots, will nominate a full slate of candidates for vital offices on the county, borough and township level. The choice of candidate at the primary election is a serious matter-and every responsible citizen should have a voice.

The registration office at the county court house reports considerable activity as new registrations come in or party members change their allegiance. Year after year, however, there are too many who fail to exercise their right to vote while others apparently are completely indifferent.

Warren County has yet to realize its full voting potential, despite the fact that party workers strive to get people to register. Perhaps this year will be different. If you are not eligible to cast your ballot, there's still time to remedy the situation.

Registration is painless and takes only a brief time. The last day to register is March 27. This includes electors who will become of age on or before May 17. March 27 is also the last day to change non-partisan or party enrollment; the last day to report removal from one district to another and the last day to report removal within the same district.

Between March 27 and May 9, registered voters and men in the armed services may request absentee ballots.

Yes, voting at the primary election and again at the general election in the fall is a serious responsibility and one that should be shared by everyone in Warren County. Be sure to register to vote and be sure to cast that vote for the candidate in the party of your choice.

The Johnson-Kennedy War

(c) New York Times News Service

WASHINGTON — There are still three differences between the administration and Sen. Robert Kennedy about negotiating and ending the war in Vietnam.

First, the senator would stop the bombing of North Vietnam in return for a promise to start peace talks. The administration wants more than this; it wants some indication that the enemy will also reduce its military activity in return for a bombing pause.

Second, the senator would avoid the verbal tangle over whether the Communists are asking for "unconditional cessation" of the bombing, or "unconditional and permanent" ending of aerial attack in the North.

Third, the senator quotes Prime Minister Wilson of Britain as saying "one single simple act of trust could have achieved (peace)," and the senator adds: "We can, and should, perform that act." The administration says that Wilson was referring not to a simple act of trust by the U.S. but by North Vietnam.

Incidentally, British officials here support the administration on the interpretation of this last point. The "simple act of trust" is to agree to some military concession to match the U.S. offer to end the bombing and this proposal, which was apparently supported by Premier Kosygin of the Soviet Union, was rejected by the Hanoi government.

One of the odd things about this latest exchange between the New York senator and the administration is that the differences between their peace proposals are not so great as the similarities.

The senator says he wants to go along with "unconditional cessation" of the bombing, but actually he goes on to state conditions: that "discussions cannot continue for a prolonged period without an agreement that neither side will substantially increase the size of the war in South Vietnam by infiltration or reinforcement." He also wants an international force to police the agreement and eventually to replace American forces.

The administration thinks this is too vague, but actually it is not opposed to the general lines of the senator's three point program. In fact, officials here say they have put the substance of these points to Hanoi without success and are confident Hanoi would reject them out of hand, as it has rejected international supervision of peace proposals in the past.

There is a perfectly simple way to test this, however, and that is to put the Kennedy points to Hanoi and see, or even to let the senator, who is a venturesome man, try his luck at persuading the Communists. After all, everybody else is trying to win the Nobel peace prize.

The administration, however, still boggles at the senator's first point. To stop the bombing in return for opening peace talks still seems to the President an easy way for the enemy to neutralize American airpower merely by talking. And at the same time he fears this would make it difficult for Washington to resume bombing while endless peace talks continued.

Besides, the administration leaders, not for the first time, think the military battle is going our way and that there are greater risks of prolonging the war without bombing than by continuing it.

Much of the confusion in this debate might be removed by a preliminary truce in the war between Johnson and Kennedy. This could be arranged easily, if the President would agree to "unconditional conversations" with Bobby about what really did happen in the Wilson-Kosygin talks and the other proposals to Hanoi, and, Bobby meanwhile would agree to a pause in his verbal bombing of the White House,

Removing a Carcinogen

WASHINGTON — With new hope in the air, some of the more creative younger men in government are beginning to think of the things that can be done—indeed must be done—when a sharp reduction of the financial burden of Vietnam begins to permit bold new initiatives.

The most hopeful of the ideas now being staffed out is radical replacement of the existing system of public welfare payments by a wholly new system of family allowances to people caught in the poverty trap. Thus far it is no more than a flickering gleam in the government's eye, as it were, but it is still a gleam to cheer about.

Just as very few affluent Americans have much understanding of the terminal cancer that threatens our great cities, so very few grasp the sheer horror of the existing welfare system, which is one of the major carcinogens.

There is nothing extraordinary, to be sure, in the parts of the welfare system giving aid to the indigent aged, to blind people and to other special groups. The horror is centralized in the part of the system giving aid to indigent families with children.

Great quantities of evidence have accumulated in recent years to show the poisonously pernicious effect of "living on welfare." Perhaps the most poignant single piece of evidence was contained in a study of slum housing in Chicago, published in New Republic, by David Satter.

Reston

Alsop

Satter, who is a young Chicago liberal, originally set out to do a searing expose of "slum lords." But his study turned into an even more searing expose of the social effects of welfare as now administered.

Briefly, Satter discovered that in even the worst parts of Chicago's Negro ghetto there were many tenements and apartment buildings that were scrupulously clean, regularly and properly maintained and generally decent and satisfactory. But these, he further discovered, ALWAYS rented for a few more cents per room than the Chicago authorities are willing to authorize for welfare recipients.

In the welfare-eligible buildings, on the other hand, Satter invariably found conditions of such filth and misery as hardly exist outside the slums of Calcutta. Worse still, Satter further found that clean-up and maintenance were quite useless in such buildings.

Whenever repairs and clean-up had been carried out, as in the apartment briefly taken over by Rev. Martin Luther King, the tenants of the building had then vented their hopelessness and despair by destructive acts that made the building every bit as bad as it had ever been within a few weeks or months. This, plus nonpayment of rents, was why Martin Luther King gave up his private slum clearance experiment.

Why then are these people "living on welfare," though basically similar in all other respects, nonetheless so different from the people in the good buildings just next door? The answer is, quite simply, that the whole system is a trap within a trap—a welfare trap within the poverty trap.

There are three reasons for this. The first reason is that in the majority of states—in 28 states and the District of Columbia, to be specific—the system appears to be specifically designed to destroy family life and to promote adultery and illegitimacy. This is because of the lunatic provision that families having a man in the house are ineligible for welfare. From this provision arise such disgusting phenomena as night raids on welfare families to discover whether there is a man hiding under the bed.

From this provision, too, such frightening statistics arise as the over 50 per cent of illegitimacy in births in Baltimore. And from this provision, above all, arises the grim and anti-social result that most welfare families are raised by half-helpless mother with no stabilizing male influence.

The second reason welfare is a trap is that the whole system also appears to be specifically designed to act as a trap. In only a tiny minority of states are adult recipients of welfare so much as allowed to try to improve their lot.

If they earn a few dollars, however miserably few the dollars may be, they are thrown off welfare. In the majority of states, welfare children who get jobs and contribute their earnings to their family are also causes of ineligibility. Thus, self-improvement, job-seeking, learning good work habits are all strongly discouraged, indeed near-outlawed.

Yet the worst of the trap, producing elements in the welfare system is the simple fact that welfare clients automatically cease to be free citizens. They become "cases," to be handled by case workers. They are reduced to the status of peccant children, to be watched over by public governesses.

Add it all up. This is a system to be destroyed. But it must then be replaced, and a feasible replacement will be examined in a second report.

Open To The Press?

Pennsylvania News Service HARRISBURG — Reporter's Notebook:

KEEPING IT OPEN—A week ago in this column it was pointed out that no provisions had been made in controversial Senate Bill No. 1 proposing a limited constitutional convention for keeping the convention open to the press and public.

Defenders of this lack of inclusion of an "open to the press" clause pointed out that neither does the legislation spell out the exclusion of news media, which is true, but on the other hand experience has shown that too often under such circumstances in a showdown the door is slammed shut, or at least a bureaucratic attempt is made in that direction.

Kudos therefore are in order for Democratic House Minority Floor Leader Herbert Fineman who this week picked up the cudgel, declaring:

"I'm going to absolutely insist that all deliberations of the convention be open to the press. If they try to jam through a quickie constitution, I want the press to be on hand to see it."

PANIC BUTTON BRIGADE—It's somewhat of a standing joke these days around Harrisburg, and on Capitol Hill, whenever a snowflake is spotted falling from semi-lead skies overhead.

A couple of such snowflakes began filtering from the sky around mid-afternoon on Monday only to melt as soon as they touched the above-freezing ground, at which point the plaintive inquiry was frequently heard:

"Gosh, I wonder if the Capitol is going to get out early!" ("Didn't.")

However the inquiry had good foundation in fact, for indeed Capitol Hill usually seems to close shop early whenever a snowstorm is under way—but perhaps not without good reason.

From a practical standpoint Harrisburg, like any city in a snowstorm, is beset by oftentimes immense traffic snarls and congestion. The releasing of the horde of state payrollers early on such snow occasions actually becomes a major public-safety-and-convenience factor too few realize.

HEADLINE OF THE WEEK—The morning BRADFORD ERA carrying a story the other day on the decline of births in its McKean County sector, headlined the item thusly:

"Tired Stork?" SHORT AND QUICK—Legislative bills oftentimes are bulky and cumbersome, and of necessity have to be to accomplish a particular legislative goal even though the goal may involve only a slight modification of an existing law.

Exactly the reverse is true in the case of at least one bill introduced in the House of Representatives the other day, to wit: in just three sentences it would abolish the 30-year-old State Milk Control Commission!

The key sentence: "The Milk Control Commission is hereby abolished and the terms of all present members thereof terminated when this act takes effect."

ONE FOR THE ROAD—Pennsylvania's first heated skid-free bridge ramp, one of the few in the country designed to eliminate the hazards of frost, snow and ice, will be part of the new $10½ million bridge now being built over the Ohio River near Vanport in Beaver County.

Under Department of Highway specifications, the approach will be heated in the winter with insulated electrical cables encased in metal conduit and buried two inches in the roadway surface—which should make that bridge one of the hottest in the country!

Rumor In JFK Assassination

WASHINGTON—President Johnson is sitting on a political H-bomb—an unconfirmed report that Sen. Robert Kennedy, D-N.Y., may have approved an assassination plot which then possibly backfired against his late brother.

Top officials, queried by this column, agreed that a plot to assassinate Cuban Dictator Fidel Castro was "considered" at the highest levels of the Central Intelligence Agency at the time Bobby was riding herd on the agency. The officials disagreed, however, over whether the plan was approved and implemented.

One version claims that underworld figures actually were recruited to carry out the plot. Another rumor has it that three hired assassins were caught in Havana where a lone survivor is still supposed to be languishing in prison. These stories have been investigated and discounted by the FBI.

Yet the rumor persists, whispered by people in a position to know, that Castro did become aware of an American plot upon his life and decided to retaliate against President Kennedy.

This report may have started New Orleans's flamboyant District Attorney Jim Garrison on his investigation of the Kennedy assassination, but insiders believe he is following the wrong trails.

This much can be verified:

1. President Kennedy was so disillusioned with the CIA after the Bay of Pigs fiasco that he swore to friends he would like "to splinter the CIA in a thousand pieces and scatter it to the winds." He ordered a thorough investigation by a group headed by Gen. Maxwell Taylor. But the President's real watchdog was his brother Bobby, who ended up calling the shots at the CIA.

2. During this period, the CIA hatched a plot to knock off Castro. It would have been impossible for this to reach the high levels it did, say insiders, without being taken up with the younger Kennedy. Indeed, one source insists that Bobby, eager to avenge the Bay of Pigs fiasco, played a key role in the planning. Whether the assassination plot was ever actually put into effect is disputed.

3. Some insiders are convinced that Castro learned enough at least to believe the CIA was seeking to kill him. With characteristic fury, he is reported to have cooked up a counterplot against President Kennedy.

4. Shortly after Kennedy was gunned down, the FBI handed President Johnson a memo reporting that Cuban leaders had hoped for Kennedy's death. The President showed it to Kennedy's top aide, Ted Sorensen, who thought the details were so ambiguous that he called the memo "meaningless."

5. It is also known, of course, that Lee Oswald, the accused assassin, was active in the pro-Castro movement and traveled to Mexico

The 'Average' Male

What's the average man like? Some say that there is no such thing. Glenn M. Hearin of the Department of Commerce is one. He has access to all the material in the Census Bureau, in addition to the best thinking of a computer that has never been known to blow a fuse.

Mr. Hearin says that there is a "majority man," He's a word quibbler. Which makes Hearin an average man too. His man will inspire no zitter of female hearts. No woman wants an "average" male. The man in question is 26 years of age, plus ten months, and was born of American parents. He has been married four years. Somebody married him under false pretensions.

At the time of the wedding, the man was 22, the woman was 20½. They have one child, one car, and live in a town in his native state, in a one-family house. He has a full high school education, plus 3 months. His wife studied a month longer.

He earns $7,000 a year and expects to go higher. There are 5,508,000 American males in this "majority" group, out of a total of 43,500,000 with steady jobs. Averages, of course, are deceptive. Within the "average" group there are highs and lows. About 320,000 of these men have completed 17 years of education, while 41,000 have no formal education.

He is not a farmer. The flight from tilling the soil probably began in 1820, when 72 percent of all males were plow jockeys. In the year 1900, 42 percent worked on farms. In 1960, the figure was under 9 percent. However, fear not, America still grows surpluses. The 9 percent, with their scientific farming knowledge and improved machinery, can grow a sweeter ear of corn, and more of it — plus more golden wheat.

They also know how to convert a blade of grass into an expensive steak — with the co-operation of dumb cattle. More than 13,000,000 former farmers are now working in factories. Another 5,600,000 are bartenders, grocers, waiters and dairy-store owners.

Our average man may live in a rural area, but not on a farm. If he grows anything, it is geraniums in a window box and a seedy lawn. Three out of four male workers live in the city. They enjoy those little brick rabbit warrens called "apartments."

There are other confusing aspects to being "average." An average family man in Alaska earns $6,083. His brother, in the state of Mississippi, gets $2,768. It can get worse. The average farmer in Mississippi has an annual income of $948. Then there are 875 men who list themselves as "aun-dress." Finding an average isn't easy. Especially when 3,185 muscular males work as "chamber-maids." You think that's funny. Over 350 others refer to themselves as professional "mid-wives." This is no more unsettling than the 240 ladies who refer to themselves as commercial pilots and navigators. And how about those 20 women who are boiler-makers? I drank their product years ago.

In the past twenty years, the greatest jump in category of work is the technical engineer. There are 210 percent more of his type, and, as we learn to depend more and more on machines that can work and think for us, the category will grow. The number of mechanics and repair men has increased 164 percent. This proves that almost everything we make can be busted.

Glenn Hearin gives no figures on authors and writers, but I know that there are more of them. Every politician who can sign his name is writing a carefully manicured memoir. Every actor who finds jobs increasingly difficult to get is penning an expose of the people who made him famous. All the retired millionaires are sitting in the sun in Florida tapping out 80, 000-word love letters to themselves.

There are no employment figures on gigolos, bookies, hoodlums, confidence men and professional prisoners. This is a pity, because the rest of us would like to know how they're doing.

There are five and a half million "average" men. Mentally, I picture him as looking somewhat like Don Knott. He's the kind who beats an old lady to the last seat on the bus and says: "Excuse me." . . .

Reading An Annual Report

If the price-earnings ratio of the company in which you own stock is 7, what does this suggest about its prospects—and your prospects—for future profits?

What key clues to the financial health of a company can you get from its annual report?

Here, following up on yesterday's column, is a glossary of the major items found in today's typical annual report, prepared with the help of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith—and brief guidelines on how to interpret them:

1) The President's Letter to Stockholders is the first place to look for a summary of your company's financial highlights for 1966, plus the reasons why profits were up or down. This letter or the subsequent text also should give you the company's own assessment of its long-term outlook, with supporting facts.

2) The "Income Statement" or "Earnings Report" is a summary of 1966 sales volume, other income, costs, profits or losses with comparative figures for 1965. The initial figure is the company's net income or net profit and this figure should be compared to profits over the previous 5 or 10 years (usually summarized separately).

3) The "Net Profit Ratio" is a prime indicator of your company's efficiency and you can figure it by dividing total net profit by total net sales. This ratio today may range from 1 per cent to 30 per cent or more, so you must compare 1966's record against the record for previous years, and against the performance of other companies in its industry.

4) The Price-Earnings Ratio is a measure of how the overall investment community views your company. The ratio won't appear in an annual report, but you can calculate it by dividing the current market price of a share of your stock by the company's 1966 per-share earnings noted in the earnings report. The average price-earnings ratio today for the 30 stocks in the Dow-Jones industrial average is about 15. A ratio well below this figure may reflect investor wariness of the future profit potential of the company and/or the industry.

5) The "Retained Earnings Statement" tells you what share of company profits are being returned to you as dividends and what share is being held back. If the proportion going to you in dividends declines sharply, look for an explanation of how the extra funds are being reinvested.

6) The Ratio of Current Assets to Current Liabilities tells you how much of a financial cushion your company would have left if it paid off all the current debts. As a very rough rule of thumb, many industrial corporations maintain twice as large a volume of current assets as the volume of current liabilities.

7) The "Debt to Equity Ratio" (or "leverage factor") is a measure of the amount of long term debt your company is carrying in relation to stockholders' investment. This ratio is figured by adding total stockholders' equity. Normally, this ratio is above 50 per cent for manufacturing companies.

8) Footnotes often reveal important information. A footnote, for instance, might tell you that an unusually high profit stemmed from a one-shot ("non-recurring") financial windfall. It may be tedious, but you should read the footnotes.

If the annual report you receive does not contain at least these basic items of information, or the facts from which to calculate them yourself, ask your stock broker for further details. He also can provide you with the industry-wide record. This is the minimum you should know about the company and the industry in which you are investing your savings.

Regional Predictions

We've often heard it said that you see as good a caliber of wrestling at the Central Northwest Regional tourney as you see at States.

The statement would seem to be less true now than in past years when the Clearfield-Greenville-Lock Haven combination dominated scholastic wrestling, but the level of competition has not dropped.

There was a day when the other three regions might take two or three places, with the remainder going to CNW Regional champs, but wrestling has improved all over the state. Last season, for instance, only four CNW winners were State Champions and grapplers like Allen Uyeda of Conestoga Valley and Clyde Frantz of Hughesville were considered the outstanding matmen in the tourney.

This, however, could be a big year for this region. Six area grapplers who competed at States last season will be at Altoona Saturday and a seventh, Davey Weber of State College, will also be looking for another ticket to Penn State. Weber was a CNW Regional Champion as a sophomore, but was defeated at Altoona last year.

With as many as six possible State Champs on the mats, we predict the winners at Altoona will be:

95-pounds—Dan Clark, Clearfield. The better of the Bison twin brothers should have enough savvy to decision Saegertown's Bobby Braymer.

103-pounds—Larry Strong, United. Our "hunch" pick of the tourney as Strong upsets Dick Braymer of Saegertown, who had to hustle to get out of Districts.

112-pounds—Dave Weber, State College. His toughest competition will come from Ross Donahue of DuBois in the afternoon, but Davey should be hungry after last year's loss.

120-pounds—Roger Cook, Commodore Perry. A slick veteran who can decision Clearfield's Norm Palovcsik, upset winner over Dan Reay of DuBois in District IX, in the opening round, then breeze through the finals.

127-pounds—Larry Rippey, Lock Haven. No contest for a veteran who has a shot at another State Title.

133-pounds—Barry Daniels, Bald Eagle Nittany. Like Rippey, a returning CNW champion who's too tough for Greenville's Gary Taylor.

138-pounds—Tom Young, Clearfield. A tough tournament wrestler, Young could be pushed by Bellefonte's Rich Houser.

145-pounds—Sam Reish, Penns Valley. A difficult choice between Reish and Jim Gollner of Reynolds, but the latter is about due to have one of those close, overtime decisions go the other way.

154-pounds—Bill Rhodes, Huntingdon. Another hunch pick. George Williams of Clearfield upset Bob Clyde of DuBois for the District IX title, and Eddie Carr isn't State Championship material. The fourth boy in the class is Jenner-Boswell's Don Pugh.

165-pounds—Jim Torsell, Bellefonte. Can handle Reynolds' Bill Loveless, but Allan Cathcart of Clearfield may give him trouble.

180-pounds—Don Colbey, DuBois. We want to say Fletcher Carr, but we keep remembering Ev Eddy.

Heavyweight—Dave Joyner, State College. Another no-contest class as the former Homer Barr protege comes into the tourney with 16 pins, one decision and one win by default.

Of our picks, Weber, Rippey, Daniels, Reish, Torsell and Joyner have a shot at a State Championship. Colbey is a long shot as is Cook. However, Rippey—probably the second best wrestler outside of Joyner—will meet Uyeda at Penn State. The quick Japanese-American grappler slipped through District III competition last week on a 6-5 decision. Rippey was State Champ at 120 last year and Uyeda wore the crown at 127.

STEELE SHAVINGS—DuBois, as we reported earlier, finished their season at 12-0 and also won the Central Wrestling Conference title with a 7-0 mark. Tyrone ended up second with a 10-1 slate, Lock Haven was third (9-1) and Clearfield (9-2) took fourth place. The loop championship is decided by a point system, and not by record as is apparent. It depends on who you defeated in the conference, not how many wins you had.

Former Erie Strong Vincent grappler Tim McCall currently boasts of a 13-2 record at Indiana University. His last three victories came against Big Ten matmen.

In a recent match at Kent State, ex-Warren grappler Tony Ross wrestled to a 2-2 draw with Ted Clark of Bowling Green. Ross lost his MAC title to Clark last season when he suffered an elbow separation in the semi-finals.

And, we'd like to hear from New York State high school mat coaches on the additional three pounds for heavyweights. It seems only logical that the big boys, who are limited to 235-pounds at the beginning of the season, should be allotted the extra pounds for growth just like the other 11 classes.

COMING DOWN

Sheffield's Jeff Scalise, 23, and Jim Clouse, 40, of Union Joint go up for a rebound in the first quarter of last night's game at Ridgway. At this point the 6-1 Scalise is even with the 6-3 Clouse but, as the game wore on, the height of the Knights proved to be too much. A 50 per cent shooting average didn't hurt the team from Rimersburg. Scalise was the leading scorer for the Wolverines with 16 points. Clouse led the winners with 24. Giving Scalise a little assistance is Ray Morrison, 43. (Photo by Ganley)

See Bright Future For Tidioute Cage

First-year coach Jim Bodner of Tidioute has proclaimed that better things are in the making for the Bulldogs. He might have missed the boat this year but the future looks bright down the Allegheny.

The leading scorer for the Bulldogs was Ed Ziegler, a sharp-shooting junior. The 6-0 underclassman scored 224 points in 17 games for an average of 13.2 points a game.

Max Anderson, who scored 89 points during the year, will return at a backcourt position for the Bulldogs.

Coach Bodner must have been looking at this year's junior high school team with much pleasure. Mark Rondinelli, a 5-7 freshman, averaged about 20 points a game for Paul Ludwig's junior high team.

Another freshman who stands a chance of making the big step to varsity next year is Ed King. He stands 5-9 and is a good rebounder. King scored about 10 points a game for the JH.

Also back next year will be Glenn Lindemuth. He will be a junior. He saw some varsity action this season.

Lost from this year's team, which according to Bodner, played hard and had a good attitude, were three of the top four scorers.

Bob Bosko was second on the list of Bulldog scorers with 207 points for an average of 12.2 points per game.

Third in scoring was the Bulldogs' "big man" Harry Hopkins. He was a 6-4 senior who scored 156 points, just over nine a game.

Bill Brown was the only other Bulldog to score over 100 points for the season. He racked up 142 markers.

The best single game performances were as follows: Ziegler had 35 against Sparta; Bosko had 22 against West Forest; Hopkins scored 16 twice, once in the first game of the year against Jamestown and again in the last game against Youngsville; Brown's best was 14 against the Alumni.

The only win on the 17 game slate was a 61-55 verdict over the Alumni.

The best offensive game for the Bulldogs came against Sparta when they rang up 82 points. Their worst offensive game was against Randolph when they scored only 32 points.

Best defensive game for the Bulldogs came against the Alumni when they permitted 55 points. A 120-point barrage by Sparta was the most yielded by the Bulldogs.

Tidioute scored 914 points for an average of 53.8 points a game. They surrendered 1,381 points for an average of 81.2 points per game.

Union Out-Shoots, Out-Rebounds Sheffield in 9C Playoff, 85-55

By JOHN GANLEY

RIDGWAY—The Union Joint Knights put on a tremendous display of shooting here last night to win the District 9-C championship over Sheffield by an 85-55 score.

The Wolverines were forced to look up to their taller opponents. The difference in the game was partly due to the superior height, but it was mostly due to the hot shooting early in the game.

Coach Nick Creola muttered all through the game, "don't they miss?" As the game went on, he found out it wasn't often that they did miss. The Knights hit on a fantastic 50 per cent on 33 of 66 shots from the floor. At the foul line they were even more sensational by hitting on 19 of 22 attempts.

After the game Creola said that you have to respect the team that Ron Stemmerick, Union coach, has. He said that the boys are devoted and they all know how to shoot.

The first time the Knights brought the ball down the court in the game they passed to both sides before finding lanky Jim Clouse free in the corner. The 6-3 sharpshooter swished in a jumper and the Knights were on their way.

The Wolverines came back down the court and were called for traveling. Union again worked for the clear shot, which came from about 20 feet out on the side. Firing the missile was Junior Dan Lewis. The result was the same as the first shot.

Sheffield came down the court again. This time they threw the ball away. Union brought the ball downcourt and Clouse was fouled. The free throw made it 5-0 with 6:15 left in the first period.

The Wolverines looked like they might be warming up when Ray Morrison and Robbie Hart hit field goals and Mike Steffan added a foul to make the score 11-5 with 5:24 left.

Clouse took it upon himself to put the Wolverines in a 10-point hole after one quarter as he dropped three more long bombs and the Knights led after one quarter 22-12.

The Wolverines started to run into foul trouble in the second period. Robbie Hart picked up his third with 6:52 left. After a brief rest he was inserted back into the lineup and picked up his fourth personal with 2:5 left to the intermission.

Union enjoyed the free throws as they made good on 11 out of 11 in the first half.

Lewis and Tim Sedgwick each scored six points in the second period. Lewis got all three of his baskets following missed shots by his teammates. Sedgwick rifled in a pair of long one-handers and two charity tosses. Clouse scored five in the period.

Wayne Swanson, who experienced probably his coldest shooting night of the year, hit for four of his nine points in the second canto. Mark McGuire, who took Hart's place, hit four points also.

The Knights took a 45-24 lead into the locker room.

Halftime statistics noted that the Knights made good on 10 of 17 shots from outside, shots longer than 15 feet. For the entire half they were 17 of 33, a shade better than 50 per cent.

The Wolverines weren't doing poorly as they hit on eight of 19 attempts from the floor for a 42 per cent. From the foul line they canned eight of 12.

Sheffield came out shooting in the third period. They knew they would have to get the ball toward the basket in an attempt to close the gap. They managed to stay fairly close to the Knights as they were outscored by only four, 20-16.

Steffan sparked the rally with seven points in the period. Jeff Scalise started to show signs of controlling the boards and scored four points on shots from in close.

The three big guns for Union, Sedgwick, Clouse and Jim Sherman, accounted for 17 of the Knights' 20 points in the period. The Knights experienced a "cold" hand in the period as they made only six of 17 shots. Sheffield was even colder, making only six of 20 tries.

About midway through the fourth period coach Stemmerick cleared the bench. His hungry substitutes displayed the same shooting style that the starters had. Whatever they shot went in. Even with the reserves playing a big part of the period they outscored Sheffield 20-15.

Scalise got three baskets in the final eight minutes to lead the Wolverines. Clouse finished with a five-point spurt and Sherman tossed in four.

The Wolverines hit 21 of 55 shots for a 38 per cent, good enough to win a lot of games. The Knights made 33 of 66 from the floor for an even 50 per cent.

Of the 26 rebounds that the Wolverines garnered Ray Morrison had eight and Scalise had five. Hart had five assists to lead the Wolverines.

The game ended the season for the Wolverines. All the players with the exception of John Sixt will be back next year. The Wolverines ended the season with a 13-9 record.

As coach Nick Creola said earlier, "We had no business winning this many games." He said that the boys just don't know when to quit. Hustle alone must have won a handful of games for them.

Nittany Lions Defeat Lehigh Matmen, 18-12

UNIVERSITY PARK — Penn State's wrestling team assumed the role as best in the East here Wednesday night by defeating Lehigh, 18-12.

Bill Koll's Nittany Lions, now 7-0-1, took six decisions to four for the visiting Engineers before a capacity crowd. Lehigh had a 10-0 slate before the match and was rated fourth in the nation. The only blemish on the Penn State record was a 15-15 tie with Navy, a team Lehigh tripped 20-11.

Vince Fitz (137) and Rich Lorenzo (177) remained undefeated by recording victories for the Nittany Lions. Lehigh's National Champion Mike Caruso (123) won an easy 12-3 decision and Jon Rushatz (187) defending Eastern titlist, handed Penn State's Jerry Seaman his first loss.

The match had been billed as a preview of the Eastern championships, scheduled for March 10-11 at the University of Pennsylvania, but Lehigh coach Gerry Leeman shuffled his lineup slightly for the match and the Engineers are expected to back on weight for the tourney.

TMO Cagers Shade Taft Loop Opponent

JAMESTOWN — The Warren Times-Mirror and Observer basketball team posted a 79-74 victory over K.D. Johnson Insurance in Taft Recreation League here Wednesday night.

The contest was close all the way, but Bob Winterburn hit a two-pointer with 15 seconds remaining to ice the game for TMO and Dave Berdine added a pair of foul shots for good measure.

Winterburn led the Warren cagers with 25 points on nine field goals and seven fouls. Ron Isackson was right behind with 23 points and Jim McElrath contributed 11.

Ron Anderson shared high-game honors with Winterburn on a 25-point effort and three other K.D. Johnson cagers hit in double figures.

The big difference came at the foul line, where Warren cashed in on 23 free throws and the losers made 10. TMO was outscored from the floor, 32 buckets to 28.

GAME COMMISSION SPONSORS CONTEST AGAIN

Antler Trophy Program Resumed

The Pennsylvania Game Commission will again conduct a trophy deer antler measuring program this year. Dates and locations for measuring heads have been established in each of the Commission's field divisions, and the upcoming ones are listed below.

The Commission's first measuring program was held in 1965, with fine cooperation by sportsmen, and many excellent racks were examined and scored. It is hoped that everyone who has a good white-tailed deer rack will submit it for measurement. Scoring is done by the internationally recognized Boone and Crockett Club methods, and this allows the owner to see how his trophy compares with white-tailed deer taken elsewhere. Each owner receives a card listing the official measurement of his trophy.

DOUBLE-TROUBLE

Romy (top) and Mary Ann Schenck captured the Doubles title in Warren Women's Bowling Association tourney held over the past two weekends at Riverside Lanes. They combined to call an 1179 series, with a high two-game total of 434. The Mary Rapp-AnnSmith team was just one pin behind the winners with 1178 and Marlene Avery and Rose Curtis took third place with 1146. The tourney was the 22nd annual sponsored by the local association in conjunction with the WIBC. (Photo by Mahan)

Communist War Deaths Set Record

By TOM BUCKLEY
(c) N.Y. Times News Service
SAIGON — Enemy forces suffered their heaviest casualties of the Vietnamese war last week, according to figures released yesterday by the United States command.

A total of 2,332 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were listed as killed in action. The previous high was 2,232 for the week ending Nov. 20, 1965, a period that included the bitter fighting in the Idrang Valley. Last week also marked a record for enemy desertions under the "open arms" program. The total was said to be 1,103, bringing the still incomplete figure for February to 2,917.

More than 500 enemy troops were killed in one engagement with Korean marines on Feb. 18. The rest were accounted for in widely scattered actions that reflected an increase in the tempo of American operations.

American casualties were also higher than usual. A total of 103 were reported killed, the third highest weekly toll of the war, and 919 wounded. The South Vietnamese suffered 286 men killed. Figures for the wounded were not announced. Other free world forces suffered 21 killed and 50 wounded, bringing total allied deaths to 470.

The total strength of American units rose by 1,000 during the week to 415,000. Of these, 202,000 were serving with the Army, 24,000 with the Navy, 75,000 with the Marines, 55,000 with the Air Force and 400 with the Coast Guard.

The free world forces have another 55,000 troops here, mainly Korean. The Vietnamese armed forces were put at 320,000 bringing the total allied strength to 1,090,000. Against them is arrayed an enemy force that is placed at 254,000 the same figure given for the past several weeks.

Combat action slowed yesterday. There was a lull in the attacks on an American 175-millimeter gun position that is firing across the Demilitarized Zone into North Vietnam. Four mortar attacks in which 545 rounds were fired had been made in 48 hours.

It was the heaviest enemy barrage of the war, but it failed to inflict any casualties or damage any of the well emplaced U.S. guns, a military spokesman said.

American pilots flew 449 sorties in the South, including the destruction of an enemy munitions dump only four miles from Saigon. Again hampered by bad weather, they flew only 92 missions in the North.

In Operation Pershing, which the first cavalry division (airmobile) has been conducting in Binh Dinh province, an enemy platoon was ambushed, with 10 killed. Since the operation began on Feb. 13, 392 guerrillas have been reported killed and 2,799 suspects detained for investigation.

Iraq Oil Settlement Reached

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
BEIRUT—Iraqi oil began to flow again yesterday to Mediterranean ports in Syria and Lebanon after an agreement had been reached in Damascus between the Syrian government and the Iraq Petroleum Company on a transit royalties dispute that had halted the flow for three months.

The internationally-owned I.P.C. said here it had agreed to increase by about 50 percent the rent paid to Syria for the pipeline across her territory from oilfields in northern Iraq.

In return, Syria agreed to restore to the company all the property impounded last December when I.P.C. refused to yield to Syria's unilateral increase of her share of transit royalties.

The increase in royalties was made retroactive to Jan. 1 last year. This will give Syria a lump sum of about $11-million.

Henceforth, Syria's annual share of transit royalties will be about $45-million compared with $33 million formerly.

The agreement followed a new round of talks in Damascus last week between Syrian officials and Christopher Daley, I.P.C.'s general manager who is based in London. I.P.C. is owned by British, United States and French interests.

Settlement of the dispute brought great relief to Iraq, whose main income comes from oil. Premier Najib Taleb announced the agreement over the radio.

Sylvania Offers Four Wage Hikes, Other Benefits

A new wage-benefits schedule, including four general wage increases over the next 31 months, has been offered by Sylvania Electric Products Inc. to Local Lodge 993, International Association of Machinists (AFL-CIO) which represents 1,260 hourly production and maintenance employees at its Warren area plants.

Eugene E. Broker, vice president and general manager, also announced a corresponding increase in wage schedule and certain benefit improvements for eligible salary employees at the plant.

The wage-benefits schedule also has been offered to other unions which represent hourly employees at other Sylvania plants. The same schedule becomes effective automatically on March 6, 1967 for hourly production employees in Sylvania plants who are not represented by unions.

Mr. Broker said that under the new schedule, four separate 3 per cent general wage increases would become effective on March 6, 1967; September 4, 1967; September 2, 1968, and September 1, 1969 for hourly employees. On the same dates, eligible salary employees will receive comparable salary increases.

In addition to the general wage increases, adjustments of up to 10 cents per hour for certain production classifications are provided for under the Sylvania offer.

Mr. Broker said the schedule also provides for expanded or increased benefits under such company-paid programs as pensions and retirements, holidays, vacations, life insurance, and hospital, surgical and medical benefits.

He said these include, for eligible hourly employees:

—Two weeks paid vacation after two years instead of three years of service with the company, effective July 1, 1967.

—An increase from nine to 10 paid holidays per year, effective in 1968.

The following effective Sept. 1, 1967:

—Establishment of a minimum pension benefit of $4.50 per month per year of service since Sept. 1, 1961.

—A reduction in eligibility age from 62 to 60 for early retirement, non-discounted pensions.

—Establishment of a widow's pension.

—An increase in the amount of life insurance for active employees equalling approximately two times annual base wage, and a corresponding increase in accidental death and disability insurance coverage.

—An increase from $75 to $100 in the maximum weekly benefit for non-occupational disability.

—Substantial increases in hospital room rates under the Sylvania hospitalization policy and an increase from 120 to 180 days maximum hospitalization for any one period of disability.

—A 20 per cent increase in hospital maternity benefits.

—Increased or expanded outpatient emergency, x-ray and dependent coverage under the company hospital, surgical and medical program.

—A 100 per cent increase in the maximum benefit allowances under Sylvania's major medical plan.

—Addition of an out-patient psychiatric care benefit under Sylvania's major medical plan.

$163,000 In Refunds Gas Users

Seventy-six thousand Pennsylvania Gas Company customers in Northwestern Pennsylvania will share $163,000 in refund credits, according to an announcement made today by Ralph E. Grimm, the utility president. The credit reflects refunds received from natural gas pipeline companies from whom the company purchases a major portion of its gas.

Grimm noted that the current refund coupled with previous refunds have totaled over $1,425,000 in the past four years. This current refund will approximate $1.50 for the average residential heating customer and will appear as a credit on May bills. Since 1962 rates to Pennsylvania customers have also been reduced $714,000 annually, amounting to $6.75 annually for the average residential heating customer.

It is also interesting to note, Grimm stated, that substantial reductions in cost of gas service during the recent period of spiraling costs for other services makes efficient, dependable gas a desirable fuel.

Grimm further remarked, "The company is happy to make this announcement, for it demonstrates clearly that natural gas is the best fuel bargain in the country today." He pointed out "that 16.3 trillion cubic feet of gas were produced in 1965, and proved gas reserves at the beginning of 1966 stood at 286.5 trillion cubic feet, a new all-time high. Statistics for 1967, when available, will reflect an even greater growth in this area."

"At the same time gas utility and pipeline companies spent an all-time high of 2.4 billion dollars in 1966 for plant improvement and expansion of services. This raised the plant value of the gas industry, the nation's sixth largest, to a record 31.3 billion dollars. Gas alone supplies over one-third of the total energy requirements of the nation today."

Town Crier

... By Les Rickey

"California Man Discovers Way to Hold False Teeth," the headline said. In an advertisement, which the ad agency had thoughtfully hokeyed up to look like a news story, a man named Users found the answer to the problem of sliding plastic.

In so many words—not too many because that would cost more money, than the message apparently is worth—it is explained that this new miracle glue will "flow on plates and form an airtight seal." There can be no problem—Nirvana has arrived for those who have never dared try antelope steak without tenderizer.

Well, I don't know about the rest of the world, but I'm a little skeptical of the whole thing. I've never found anything that was quite adequate for such a chore. The few mistakes I've made always left me with a mouthful of gelatin that slowly oozes around the edges and completely changes the flavor of my coffee.

And that's not all. Just about the time I get carried away over a good joke or start to make a point in an argument, the gummy stuff slides down my tongue and makes me look as though I were foaming at the mouth. This is very effective in an argument, if you want your protagonist to think you have rabies. If not, it's just plain embarrassing.

Of course, if you don't have dentures you miss all this fun. I don't mind the mouthful of plastic, but I do envy you for being blissfully ignorant of California Man and others of his ilk.

IN PREPARING TODAY'S COPY for the Woman's Club Drama Department I was reminded that it has been sometime since the bill of fare offered by the Pittsburgh Playhouse has been lightly touched upon. Two of Arthur Miller's plays,—"A View From The Bridge" and "A Memory of Two Mondays," closed on Sunday in the Craft Avenue Theatre. But, continuing in the Hamlet Street Theatre through this Sunday, March 5th, is the comedy (they call it "comedy" why I don't know, it's a rather sad story of two lonely people, with now and then incidental lightening touches of humor and wit), "Two For The Seesaw." Anyhow, Sunday is its last day, if I may be repetitive. Then, opening in the Craft Avenue Theatre on Friday, March 10th, is "The Three Sisters" by the famed Russian playwright, Anton Chekhov. For those who like a weekend of shopping, dining and theatre going in what is becoming one of the world's truly beautiful cities, and, for students there bent on acquiring culture and education (though that's rather like putting the cart before the horse, since the two are not synonymous—there are plenty of people with an education who cannot be called cultured, but I don't know of any who can be called cultured who have not first acquired an education whether it be formal or informal), tickets range from $3.30 Sunday through Friday; $4.40 on Saturday; and special rates for students at $1.50 Sunday through Friday, and $2 on Saturday. The curtain rises nightly at 8:30 and on Sunday evening at 7:30.

THE JUNIOR PHILOMEL who are, in a manner of speaking, the big sisters of the Little Bach Society, met on Wednesday afternoon at the Woman's Club on Market street. The program for the afternoon was classical, with four of the members performing: Karen Bunk, pianist, March by Beethoven; Kathy Fritz, violinist, Romance by Svedens; Karen Foreman, pianist, a two-part Invention by Bach; Janna Roop, pianist, Sonata in F by Mozart. The Junior Philomel is for musically inclined students of high school age, and is also sponsored by the senior, Philomel Club.

YOUNGVILLE PRE-SCHOOL MOTHERS CLUB is meeting next Monday, March 6th, at 8 p. m. when a program is to be presented by A.F.S. student Alison Comfort of New Zealand of slides and tales of her homeland. Also former A.F.S. student, Sue Reagle of Youngville, who spent last summer in Germany, will show slides and tell of her experiences. Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Richard Isenman, Mrs. John Kuzmin and Mrs. Leonard Blausner. The meeting will take place as usual in the all-purpose room of the Youngville Elementary School.

MINIATURES: This Sunday all committee chairmen of the Blueberry Women's Golf Association will meet at 2:30 in the Hospitality Room of the Northwest Savings and Loan Building.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The other evening I was with a group of new friends. Most of them did not know I was a registered nurse. Two of the women present do volunteer work in a hospital. For no reason whatever they began to speak in an unbelievably vicious way about nurses.

One woman said, "All nurses are sadists. The reason they go into nursing is because they enjoy seeing people suffer. They take delight in witnessing grief and pain and death. They are hard-boiled females without a single decent emotion."

I was shocked. I recalled the times I had gone home heart sick after trying to console anguished parents who learned that their child had an incurable illness. I recalled the times I was moved to tears by the death of a young husband or the agony of a mother who had given birth to a stillborn baby.

How can people say nurses are sadistic and hard-boiled? Why did these women speak so disparagingly about some of the finest people in the world?—R.N.

DEAR R.N.: Because the slanderers are unhappy and unfulfilled failures. People who are unable to build something must destroy something. Forget about these miserable wretches. They are not worth your wrath.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have been reading your column for a long time and I am sorry I didn't pay more attention to your advice. I am 22 years old and I already know what it is to be "The Other Woman." If I could live my life over I would tell the rotten bum to get lost.

I started going with him when I was 16. He was married and I thought this made me sophisticated and glamorous.

The man's wife waited three years for him to "regain his sanity," as she put it. Then she gave him a divorce. Like a fool I married him three weeks later. Now I know why he always looked so nice. His wife was a wonderful shirt-ironer. She pressed his suits and even shined his shoes. I'm just no good at valet service. He tells all the time that I am lazy—and could do better if I tried.

He never paid any attention to his kids when we were going together but now all of a sudden he misses them something awful and goes to see them four and five evenings a week—unless, of course, he is lying and going someplace else.

I am sick of this whole rotten mess and I want out before I become pregnant and get stuck. What do you advise?—LAME-BRAIN FROM ARIZONA

DEAR LAME: I hope that a divorce would not be a violation of your religious beliefs because your life sounds miserable.

I am sure your husband is as unhappy as you are and he would probably return to his family if he could unload you. See your clergyman, and good luck.

Confidential to: Bittersweet: I don't see anything sweet about your sneaky little arrangement. I see a stupid, misguided girl who is headed for a peck of trouble. I hope you will read the letter above carefully. Perhaps you will see someone you know.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Drama Department Topic On Playwright

The Drama Department of the Woman's Club at its meeting this week heard Mrs. William Muir discuss the topic "Arthur Miller—An Enigma". In the speaker's opinion, the only person who could ably do a biography on Arthur Miller at this time, would be Earle Stanley Gardner, or a clairvoyant. "Here is a man who talks endlessly about his philosophy of writing; about his place in American literature—but what is he? Who is he?" Mrs. Muir asked.

Arthur Miller, a 1949 Pulitzer Prize winner for his play "Death of a Salesman", was born in 1915 of middle class Jewish parents. His father, Isadore Miller, a manufacturer, was a native of Austria and came to this country at an early age. Arthur's mother, Augusta Barnett Miller, was a native of this country. The Miller family lived in the Harlem section of Manhattan and the child attended the same public school his mother had attended, and, he was a miserable student, the Drama Department speaker said.

After he became famous his teachers and principals went over his school records in an attempt to remember him; not one could.

Of the depression, the speaker noted that Miller is quoted as saying "Before the crash,

I thought society meant rich people from the Social Register. After the crash it meant strange men who knocked on doors pleading for a chance to wash windows." Its effect on Miller was to give him a sense of compassion and understanding of the insecurity of man in the environment of modern industrial civilization; to develop his sense of social responsibility, and a moral earnestness.

He graduated from high school in 1932 and wanted to go to college but "nobody had the fare". He worked for two years in an automobile warehouse and his autobiographical play "A Memory of Two Mondays" is based on this period. Then he entered college, the University of Michigan, which he completed with the aid of the National Youth Administration, supplemented by his salary as night editor of the Michigan Daily.

Miller has said "I wrote my first play in ten days of a spring vacation. The play won several prizes. It left me with the belief that the ability to write plays is born in one and that it is a kind of sport of mind as though one had to be knocked on the head in a certain way before one could practice the art." He graduated in 1938.

Chalk Artist At Sugar Grove

The Sugar Grove Free Methodist Church invites the public to hear the Rev. W. J. E. Daw, chalk artist and evangelist from Canada, now appearing at 7:30 each night through March 12.

The Rev. Daw has been a successful pastor for a number of years and has a message for us today, especially for the young people. A chalk picture drawn each evening will be awarded to the person bringing the largest number of persons to the service who have not attended previously.

Saturday, March 4, will be a district youth rally, with the Oil City District Youth in charge. This service begins at 7:00 p.m.

The Rev. Ned Burkett, pastor

Society

He returned to New York, wrote for radio, his scripts being heard on Columbia Workshop and Cavalcade of America. Among his writings are "The Pussy Cat and the Expert", "The Expert Plumber Who Was a Man", "The Crucible", "A View from the Bridge", "Focus", "The Misfits", "All My Sons", "Death of a Salesman", "After the Fall", his last play.

He is known to be a slow, painstaking, and deliberate writer, who composes thousands of pages to get one hundred to suit him. He objects to the writer who tells the story of a man but neglects to tell about the world he lived in. His credo may be summed up in his own words:

"There is a hidden order in the world. There is only one reason to live—it is to discover its nature. The good are those who do this. The evil say that there is nothing beyond the face of the world, the surface of reality. Man will only find peace when he learns to live humanly, in conformity to those laws which decree his human nature.

"I wrote not only to find my way into the world but to hold it away from me so that senseless events will not devour me."

Mrs. Muir concluded her talk with the thought that a century must pass before playwright Miller's true evaluation and place in history can be determined.

Tea was served at the conclusion of the program with Mrs. C. Walter Johnson, the hostess in charge, and Mrs. Gordon Kay with Mrs. Larr Sowles presiding at the table.

A New You by Emily Wilkens Sense Versus Scents

The fragrance of a girl is perhaps her most beguiling quality. Undoubtedly, you've encountered a glamorously groomed "creature" who is most appealing, except to your sense of smell. True, the entire situation is tricky and touchy. How can one test her personal aroma to insure its appeal to those around her?

The common offender is the potpourri of products used to keep well-groomed. All preparations for the care of the skin and hair—cosmetics, deodorants, shampoos, rinses, hair sprays, bath oils, perfumes, colognes, soaps, hand lotions, talcum powder, toilet waters, sachets, room sprays—have their distinctive signatures.

If you assemble them all in one not-too-well-ventilated spot and sniff-volla—you will then be aware of the scent that undoubtedly surrounds you.

Should your potpourri be delightful, you are indeed fortunate. However, should you be dismayed, attempt to seek out the offender. It may be your deodorant-antiperspirant overpowering more delicate scents. On the other hand, it might be your hairspray that dominates and drowns out your all important toilet water or perfume.

In any case, should you seek out new combinations of products, keep in mind that hypoallergenic preparations are frequently devoid of any scent. Making future selections all with the same perfume base produced by a single manufacturer is generally satisfactory. Finally, seeking out favorite products which merge happily may make your magic combination.

The fragrance you admire on someone else may not combine pleasantly with your body chemistry. When trying out a product, always apply a bit to your wrist on the inside and to the inner crook of your elbow. Wait twenty minutes or so, then if you enjoy the smell it's for you.

I think it is as inconceivable to shriek of an overpowering perfume as it is to puff an odorless cigar in close quarters.

Like Shakespeare's Seven Ages of Man, there are Six Ages in the fragrance cycle of women. Here they are:

Babies—newly bathed.

Two to 6—little girls, the smell of crisply washed and ironed cottons.

Twelve to 15—teenagers, the brisk lotion lavished on over-active skin, mingled with a light cologne and dusting powder.

Fifteen to 17—young ladies, toilet water supplemented by a touch of perfume, dusting powder and personal care products.

Seventeen to 24—everything with verve that mixes with the wonder-working chemistry—let your natural seductiveness come through at this age.

Twenty-five Plus—the works, whatever makes you smell delectable and feel desirable is for you!

JUST FOR YOU

Cherish your precious perfumed preparations by keeping them in a cool dark place tightly capped. Buy in small quantities and use only while still fresh and delightful.

Hints From Heloise

A Manufacturer Writes

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a hint for housewives who complain that their electric dishwashers sometimes don't get the dishes clean.

Many wives run a load of dishes as soon as their family leaves for school and work. The family has used most of the hot water from the hot water tank, getting ready.

Others try and run the dishes while they are doing their laundry. This drains the hot water heater again.

It takes awhile for the water heater to get back up to 140 to 160 degrees.

We suggest that your readers go on and load their dishwashers and close the door so that the kitchen will look clean. But, do wait until the hot water tank is at its highest temperature before washing them.

Manufacturer

So let's go test our thermostats, gals.

It should read at least 140 degrees but not over 160. If you don't know where the thermostat is, ask your husband!

Heloise

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE:

For exercise, I walk to work each day. My hips have become smaller, but so have the caps on all my shoes.

Secretary

DEAR HELOISE:

To make your chrome shine, just put a little peanut butter on a paper towel and rub. Then wipe off the excess oil or peanut butter.

This works on sinks, stoves, bathroom fixtures, etc.

A Reader

Don't laugh if you haven't tried it. It's the oil in the peanut butter that cleans and shines chrome. Just a little will do the trick.

Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

For those who have wood paneling and prefer a non-showy traverse rod, try spraying the rod with an aerosol can of automobile touch-up paint.

It comes in a shade that matches wood and in a small size can which is economical. Best of all, it dries in 20 minutes and the rod is almost invisible against the wall.

Carriers can be sprayed too, but the cord must be protected or it will not pull easily.

Grace Lee

DEAR HELOISE:

Here is a hint for the gals who love to use bath oil in their bath water—but find it too expensive.

I use plain old baby oil. I just pour two capsful into the tub while filling it.

Peggy Smith

DEAR HELOISE:

We love the real hot kosher dill pickles, but as they are about twice the price of ordinary dill pickles, I make my own.

I buy regular dill pickles on sale in large jars, season them with salt, cayenne pepper and garlic salt, then refrigerate.

I find them every bit as good, and what a saving it is on our budget.

Dorothy Raymond

DEAR HELOISE:

Here's a tip for snapshot savers. When mounting your pictures in an album, place each negative behind the mounted picture.

It's a great timesaver when someone asks you for a copy.

Dorothy O'Larry

Season's Traditions Of Other Lands Given At CDA Meeting

Easter colors of purple and gold, which happen also to be the colors of Court Warren Catholic Daughters of America, were used in decorations for the Wednesday night meeting of the group in the social rooms of Holy Redeemer Church. The program was on "Easter Traditions and Customs of Other Lands" and was presented under the chairmanship of Mrs. Paul McGarry, who introduced each of the following above, from left to right: Miss Marie Gaghan, Mrs. Joseph Tassone (center, Mrs. McGarry), Mrs. Joseph Bunk and Mrs. Dewey Mayes. Miss Gaghan told of Southern France; Mrs. Tassone, Italy; Mrs. Bunk, Poland; and Mrs. Mayes, in costume, told of the Ukrainian countries and sang a Ukrainian song. At the speakers table baskets were filled with handpainted eggs decorated according to the traditions of the countries represented and a floral centerpiece flanked by lighted tapers completed the Easter theme decorations. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Paul Steinkamp and her committee. General program chairman for the year is Mrs. Charles Gray who scheduled the monthly programs at the opening of the 1966-67 season of CD of A activities.

Opening lead: Queen of ♠. South evolved a successful technique for landing his small slam contract in spades that might be characterized as a partial strip and end play. At the key moment he offered the opposition a choice—either of which would be fatal to the defense.

West opened the queen of hearts and South won the trick in his hand with the king. The fate of the contract appeared to hinge on the location of the diamond king. Declarer observed that an additional prospect might be in the offing, provided that he stripped out the hand first in an attempt to develop a favorable end position before taking the diamond finesse.

Trumps were drawn in two pulls and then South cashed the ace and king of clubs. When West followed to the second round with the ten, it suggested to declarer the possibility that his opponent had one card remaining in the suit—either the jack or the queen. If this were indeed the case, then the diamond finesse could be avoided, for West was on the verge of being end played.

The ace of hearts was cashed first and the nine of clubs was led. East could not afford to put up the queen of clubs without dropping West's jack and thereby establishing North's eight. He, therefore, played the five, declarer discarded a diamond and West was in, with no safe exit.

If he returned a heart, it would present declarer with a ruff and discard. He, therefore, led a diamond into the ace-queen, which eliminated South's remaining loser.

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars, FOR FRIDAY, MARCH 3, 1967.

ARIES (March 21 to April 21)—You have the talents and opportunities, but will you use them adroitly now? Gains possible through unusual ideas.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)—Tasks leftover from yesterday? Tend them enthusiastically, and don't be hurried into anything you may later regret. A good day for experiments and inventions.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)—Take precautions in written and oral agreements; handle assignments on time and without misgivings. You should now discover formerly hidden benefits. Aim high!

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)—Don't turn down a brand new suggestion until you investigate it thoroughly. Use the best in tools and tactics.

LEO (July 24 to August 23)—Wend your way through difficulties dexterously, but avoid mere wandering or going around in circles. A good day for "dressing up" old ideas and capitalizing on them.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23)—This is a day for pulling up the reins to review your course, to note whether you are headed in the right direction and to inaugurate new systems. Stress astute thinking.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23)—Keep these in mind for the sure, safe way today: Reasoning versus heated argument, stressing simplicity over complexity. Emphasize tact and friendliness.

How to Keep Well

DISPLACED UTERUS

The position of the uterus varies somewhat but in one of every six women the organ is definitely displaced. In mild malpositions, there is only slight sagging; in severe cases it may be turned upside down. This pear-shaped organ approximates the size of a fist. It is part of the reproductive system that houses, nourishes, and protects the fetus.

The uterus consists of the main body, or fundus, and the neck, or cervix, which protrudes into the vagina to receive the sperm. The long axis of the uterus extends from front to back and slightly downward so that the cervix meets the vagina at right angles. In most abnormalities, the long axis is tilted or bent backward so that the body of the organ points toward the rectum and spine.

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 22)—Stop to get your breath if you feel pressed, even a bit. It is time and energy-wasting to drive on regardless. Good opportunities in the offing.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21)—Advertise your talents—but discreetly. You like the straightforward attack, but this can rub others the wrong way. Hold friendly discussions instead.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20)—The give-and-take spirit must prevail now or you will discover you have plenty of opposition, much of it needless. Pick up loose ends, be careful in both words and action.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19)—Imagination and verve are fine if they are accompanied by reasoning and sound purpose. Bear this in mind now, when you may have to fight a tendency to go to extremes.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20)—Getting things done, and done capably, is your forte, and this day's influences commit you to any one of several lively or, if you prefer, mildly active, interests.

YOU BORN TODAY are courageous and ambitious but sometimes too headstrong. You do yourself well if developed on the higher plane; your opinions carry weight. Versatile mentally, you are able to learn more than one skill. Pisces boasts many artists, jurists, musicians, and physicians. You take the difficult in stride. Notable traits: Perceptiveness and vitality. Birthdate of: George M. Pullman, inventor; Alexander Graham Bell, telephone inventor.

The uterus is supported by the pelvic tissues and uterine ligaments. Displacements occur when these structures are weakened, stretched, or torn (usually in childbirth). In many instances there are no symptoms and unless the woman is examined she never will know that the organ is out of place. In others, a feeling of heaviness and pressure in the pelvis ensues. When the backward inversion is great, backache and constipation may occur.

Nothing need be done when there is no discomfort or complication. A pessary is used to correct temporary slanting. This device also may be used to determine whether the displaced uterus is causing symptoms.

Surgery affords permanent relief. At this time the pelvic tissues and ligaments are tightened to hold the organ in place. Removal of the uterus (hysterectomy) may be recommended when fibroids or other tumors coexist or when the woman is beyond the childbearing age. Removal eliminates a potential source of cancer.

Food Prices Continue Skid

By SALLY RYAN

AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—March is coming in like a lamb for the family food shopper.

A food price war is brewing in Portland, Ore.

In Oklahoma City, Okla., markets have cut egg and milk prices to keep up with the gas stations. That's right, gas stations.

In New York, a major supermarket chain cut milk prices. And coffee wholesalers have cut their prices for the second time in six months.

In Portland, cutup fryers are advertised at 27 cents a pound, bacon 48 and sirloin steak 86, butter 58 and coffee 58 to 62.

One chain quietly cut prices on the shelves two weeks ago, and the others responded, advertising discount prices.

Some gas stations began selling milk and eggs in Oklahoma City, last month, exploding a milk price war that saw milk drop from $1.05 to 49 cents a gallon, it now is 84 to 89 cents. Eggs, which were 57 to 62 cents a dozen, are 49.

Wholesale milk prices have eased in many areas in recent weeks. This week a major chain in the New York area trimmed retail prices from 2 quarts for 55 cents to 27 cents apiece, 95 cents a gallon instead of 97.

The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., which operates the A&P supermarkets — the nation's largest chain — provided a break for coffee drinkers, too. It cut retail prices in the New York area on regular coffee 4 to 6 cents a pound — instant coffee wasn't affected.

Coffee wholesalers responded by cutting their brands 2 to 4 cents. The reason: There's an awful lot of coffee in Brazil.

In the meat department, the spotlight is lingering on pork. Supplies are much bigger than a year ago. Ham and bacon prices are lower on the West Coast this week.

Broilers are down 1 cent a pound in the Southwest.

Lamb is down 1 to 2 cents a pound on the West Coast, and a major supermarket chain in the New York area is having a lamb sale. Leg of lamb is down 20 cents to 65 cents a pound.

Graham Explains

ERIE — "It was a lack of communication." This was the reason given Wednesday by Mortimer E. Graham, County GOP chairman, for Republican Thomas Bates' failure to make the non-partisan "Citizens for Better Schools" committees' select approved candidates' list. Graham said he was not a part of the committee that decided which GOP candidates the group would support.

New Bishop Assumes Office at Erie Next Week

ERIE—The Catholic Diocese of Erie will receive its new bishop, the sixth in its history, Monday evening when Auxiliary Bishop John F. Whealon of Cleveland presents to the Board of Consultors the Vatican document that appoints him as successor to retiring Archbishop John Mark Gannon.
The ceremony, in which the spiritual leadership of the 215,

000 diocese Catholics will change hands for the first time in 46 years, will begin a two-day official welcome of the bishop in Erie.
Bishop Whealon and his retinue, traveling from Cleveland by chartered bus, will be met at Holiday Inn South by Erie Auxiliary Bishop Alfred M. Watson, Msgr. John Gannon, chancellor, and other members of the Board of Consultors at about 5 p.m. Monday.

They will drive by limousine to St. Peter's Cathedral where, after prayer in the sanctuary, Bishop Whealon will present his "credentials" at a meeting in the sacristy.
When the consultors have examined the appointing document, they will enter it in the formal minutes of the meeting, and the 46-year-old bishop will assume legal possession of the diocese. This historic ceremony is expected to be completed by about 6 p.m. Monday.

On Tuesday, an installation procession with about 50 bishops will be held in the cathedral, beginning at 3:30 p.m. Midway in the procession, a short ceremony will be conducted in the rear vestibule of the church, involving Philadelphia's Archbishop John J. Krol, Bishop Whealon and their attendants.

A banquet at Gannon College is scheduled for Tuesday at 6 p.m. A reception for the new bishop, to be attended by civic dignitaries, is planned at the college Sunday, March 12, beginning at 3 p.m.

Dresser Makes Offer to Buy Link-Belt Co.

BRADFORD—Dresser Clark, Olean, N.Y., division of Dresser Industries of Dallas, Texas, announced yesterday that Dresser has made an offer for tenders of up to 1,300,000 shares of common stock of Link-Belt Co. at $48 a share. Dresser started in business in Bradford, where the original plant is still in operation.

The average closing market price for Link-Belt common stock for the week ending Feb. 25 was $39.09, a Dresser spokesman said. Link-Belt, with headquarters in Chicago and a district sales office in Buffalo, has 21 manufacturing plants throughout the country.

John Lawrence, chairman and president of Dresser, said the markets for power transmission equipment, construction, equipment, materials handling equipment and industrial waste clean-up systems are of particular interest to Dresser. These are strong markets for Link-Belt.

One million three hundred thousand shares is approximately 45 per cent of Link-Belt's outstanding stock. Dresser did not commit itself to accept any of the stock if less than one million, roughly 35 per cent, of Link-Belt's shares are tendered.

Deny Oil City School Group Is Pro Nazi

OIL CITY — Rumors have been dispelled that a so-called "Nazi Club" is flourishing at a high school in the Oil City area, despite the fact a small gang of boys using Nazi-related symbols had been organized and some of the boys recently were suspended from school.

School officials attributed the suspensions to other reasons.

The rumors apparently became widespread after three students attended a school function reportedly dressed in helmets and with swastikas.

There were also reports that another group had been formed and scheduled a "rumble" with the other club. State Police of the Franklin substation denied a report they were called in to break up the scheduled brawl.

A school official said he had no knowledge of police action in the incident.

The Veterans Administration has sent a team of VA contact representatives to talk with Binh, a major embarkation point for Army personnel. The VA and the Department of Defense, cooperating in this pilot project, are considering extending the service to other department bases in Vietnam.

This project was initiated as part of the programs outlined by President Johnson, who has asked government agencies to do everything possible to smooth and speed the transition from military service to civilian life for returning Vietnam servicemen.

Response to the new program by the G.I.'s in Vietnam has been most enthusiastic, reported VA representatives Richard E. Bush, a Medal of Honor recipient, and John P. McFadden, holder of several military honors.

What I Learned From a Flop

By BARBARA BRITTON
Star of Stage and Television

Last year I ran headlong into an emotional crisis. All of this came about because of a play called Me and Thee which I appeared in two years ago with Durward Kirby. There were two months of rehearsals and previews before Broadway.

The days, while exhausting, were filled with rewarding moments and wonderful people. I am thinking in particular about our playwright, Charles Horine, and his wife Katie.

Katie was always there beside Chuck, Katie, so quiet, matronly, shy, radiated a lovely benevolence. She and Chuck had been together since school days in Ohio.

It was typical that on a day when Chuck had to have a tooth extracted, Katie took his place at rehearsal. No one questioned that she spoke for Chuck exactly as he would have spoken. They were that much in tune.

During the tense weeks before the play opened in New York, I always had my own personal method for gaining a sense of calm and assurance. This came by setting aside time each day for Bible-reading.

There was one passage that I found myself turning to morning after morning; a passage from Proverbs which would stay with me all day:

"Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding."

"In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct thy paths."

"I shall trust in the Lord," I would say to myself each morning, "and He will see that all is well." Not only did I feel stronger, but there was a bright and happy sound in those words.

At last we returned to New York for a series of preview performances. In those final days it was as though we were too fat even to be tired.

Then came the fateful Sunday before the opening night. The telephone rang. "This is not good news," a voice said. "Katie Horine is dead."

I couldn't believe what I was told. But it was true. A heart attack. She had died in his arms.

It was a horrible shock. I never felt less like acting. But two nights later — in show business tradition — our play opened. Before the curtain went up I said, "I trust in Thee, Lord."

And so the play went on and the audience showered us with laughter and friendliness. But opening night audiences are friendly; we wondered if the critics enjoyed it.

They obviously did not. The reviews were bad. At noon the next day, word came that there would not be another performance. In the face of such negative reviews no one would come to buy tickets.

I was stunned. We had labored to make that play come alive. And we felt we had succeeded. Yet suddenly it was all over.

I began to feel sorry for myself and, through it all, I questioned God.

There was no more Bible-reading for me that week. I was bitter.

On the following Sunday, I arrived in church very early. Absentmindedly I picked up a Bible and through habit turned to Proverbs. I read again and again those lines. I now discovered the grave and obvious mistake I had made.

"Trust in the Lord with all thine heart," Yes, I had done this, I thought. "And lean not unto thine own understanding." But was it possible that I had been ignoring this advice?

I had trusted in the Lord. I trusted Him to provide me with a hit play on Broadway. It was I, not God, who had made up the ground rules, and when the game didn't go right for me I felt betrayed.

A woman entered a pew several rows away. I didn't know her, but she reminded me of Katie Horine.

Katie . . . I thought of her now, not so much with a feeling of grief as with shame for myself.

Here I was alive and healthy, sitting in church on a beautiful Sunday, my husband and my daughter close beside me, my blessings far greater than my deservings.

How could I, even for a second, feel sorry for myself when I could see so clearly, so near at hand, the terrible loss that Chuck Horine had sustained? What was my loss compared to that?

Slowly I began to face and understand the disappointment that the play's closing had caused me. I had lost perspective; that ability to see smaller things in their relation to the whole.

The point is, I thought, I had tripped over my own understanding, not God's.

It was right that I should have been absorbed in the play, but not to the point of forgetting that it was only a play, only a part of my life, not the whole. Life is too complex to comprehend how each part fits with another, how failure is so often a part of success.

My daughter Chris stirred slightly beside me in the pew, just enough to remind me that she was there and that I had been deep in thought for a very long time.

I think my eyes were shining at that moment because I was very happy. Gently, I reached over and caressed a lock of her hair, and then I reached for my husband's hand.

Police-Fire Merger Under Close Study

OLEAN, N. Y. — A proposal to effect police and fire department consolidation here, suggested Jan. 3 by Mayor Harvey L. Shneiderman to council, sparked a visit by officials to Dearborn, Mich., Feb. 17 and 18.

The consolidation of the departments in Dearborn impressed the Olean group as offering little prospect of improvements or economies over operations here, as reported to council members Tuesday.

The mayor, however, intends to file a report of his own.

A report by Albert C. Ensell, superintendent of the city fire alarm system, countersigned by Fire Chief Fred B. Page, said that in answering 248 alarms last year, 385 Dearborn policemen spent only five hours and 20 minutes in actual time worked at fires. Ensell stated he saw no justification for the time and money spent to train and equip patrolman for fire training and come up at end of the year with only five and a half hours of actual work.

Mayor Shneiderman's proposal was that probationary patrolmen start their duties with the fire department to qualify them to answer minor alarms.

Police Chief Joseph J. Sokolowski said flatly that "in view of these facts and to promote harmony between the two departments, we do not approve or recommend this consolidation."

Deer Crashes Through Window Kane Apartment

KANE, Pa. (AP) — A young male deer wandered into the Kane business district yesterday and crashed through the window of an apartment building door.

While the 100-pound deer lay stunned in a hallway, police tied his legs. They loaded the animal in the trunk of a patrol car, drove it to a wooded section and released it.

The deer, suffering only from a few minor cuts, lay on the ground for about 45 minutes then got up and bounded away.

Humane Society Is Seeking New Animal Shelter

Cruelty and ill-treatment of dogs, horses and cows was discussed at length during the March meeting Wednesday night of the Warren County Humane Society.

John Rix, field agent, explained how he works with the full cooperation of Sheriff D. E. Allen Jr. and the state police after complaints of mistreatment comes to his attention. He said he wished those warned would cooperate with the Society at the first investigation thus avoiding continuation of cases and bringing them to court. Rix advised, however, that if changes are not made, offenders will be prosecuted.

Jack Downs was elected president of the group with a new slate of officers and directors named.

The vital need now is an animal shelter for lost and stray dogs. Two possible temporary shelters are now being investigated.

James Blomquist, of North Warren, was appointed head of the finance committee and anticipates getting a county-wide drive for much needed funds under way soon.

The Society will participate in the annual Sportsman's show to interest more people in Humane Society memberships: $1 inactive, $5 voting, $20 sustaining and $50 life. Membership dues may also be paid to Miss Anne DeFrees, 504 Liberty st.

Miss Mary Lou Anderregg will take telephone messages for the group with authorization approved for a special phone to be listed. Mrs. Joseph Smith made a plea for anyone who could give a dog temporary home to call her at 723-7509, adding the situation was desperate.

Rudolph Hanson of the Erie Humane Society was the guest speaker.

Resent Tax Pressure

FRANKLIN — A group of Franklin merchants and businessmen are currently expressing strong resentment over the city's 12-year-old mercantile tax, which is being strongly enforced this year through a collection agency. In past years little pressure was exerted to collect this tax.

Raise Liquor Prices

MEADVILLE — Members of Crawford County Tavern Assn. voted unanimously Wednesday to pass whisky price increases on to the consumer in over-the-bar sales.

Has Anybody Seen 'Heidi'?

Every time the phone rings at 304 Crescent Park, the Marvin Billows family hopes to hear that Heidi is safe and sound — and coming home.

Heidi is a little brown dachshund. On Sunday, Marvin Billows and two of the couple's children took their pet and went to Mulberry playground. Perhaps the feeling of running free for a change, caused Heidi to roam away or perhaps she was taken.

The dog, which has been with the family for four years, is really a homebody and her family won't rest until she returns or they know her fate.

Wearing a bright red collar, Heidi was seen walking near Hill st., and spotted several

Measurement and Staking Service Offered Farmers

Requests from farmers for measuring and staking service are being accepted by the Warren County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office, County ASCS Committee chairman Charles Camp announces.

"Measurement and staking service offered to farmers at nominal cost," he explains. "Is an inexpensive type of insurance in assuring farmers they are in compliance with the wheat and feed grain programs." Camp says this service helps determine exact amount of permitted and diverted acreage, prior to planting time. Measured acreage is staked off by an ASCS field reporter.

A graduated uniform schedule of service charges has been set for all Pennsylvania counties for the measurement service. For 0.1 to 11.9 acres is $8.00. For 12.0 to 24.9 acres, $12.50. 25.0 to 49.9 acres, $17.50. 50.0 to 100 acres $25.00. Over 100 acres, $25.00 for first 100 acres, plus $15.00 for each additional multiple of 100 acres or fraction thereof.

Camp points out that, although requests for measuring and staking service will be taken any time during the year, chief benefit is using it prior to planting time.

Vietnam Bonus Bill Is Pushed By State VFW

The state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will call for passage of the Vietnam Bonus Bill at a Harrisburg hearing this month.

On March 15, Leo L. Woyton, Ford City, will tell a joint legislative task force that his 143,000-man overseas war veterans organization supports S-19.

In testimony released prior to his appearance, Woyton reminds the legislators that veterans of two world wars and Korea received adjusted compensation for their sacrifices.

"We cannot deny this to the gallant men who are locked in the savage Vietnam struggle," he says. "We don't think Pennsylvania wants to set precedents of that kind."

The VFW favors a bill which would pay a flat rate to those who have received either the Armed Forces Expeditionary Medal or the Vietnam Service Medal. A larger payment would be made to next of kin.

Woyton says the troops, "some 40,000 of them from Pennsylvania, are making incredible sacrifices. They did not lie down and whimper as some of their contemporaries have done."

The VFW Commander notes that many have interrupted their careers, have postponed marriages and will go through a trying readjustment period.

Youth Is Charged

COUDERSPORT — Wayne P. Reed, 18, of RD 1, Shinglehouse Monday was taken before Justice of the Peace Mrs. Lella Stumpf, Coudersport, on a charge of involuntary manslaughter in the death of Merlin Benjamin Dean, Jr., 13, of Shinglehouse RD 1. The shooting occurred Feb. 6 when Reed and a brother, Leland, 13, paid a visit to the Dean home.

times near the G. G. Greene residence on Conewago ave. Ext. by workmen in the area — the last time on Wednesday.

An advertisement in the Times-Mirror and Observer this week stated a reward was offered for Heidi's return and Mrs. Billows said the offer still stands.

The Billows children, ages 10, 8 and 5, miss their pet and trust that she'll be back. Should it turn out that Heidi is dead or injured, the family would like to be informed. If someone has taken the dog into their home, the Billows hope the person will permit Heidi to rejoin her folks.

Anyone with knowledge of the dachshund's whereabouts is asked to call 723-1992.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS SURVEY — X

'KNOW YOUR COUNTY'

Education

School Buildings and Attendance

1. Are the school buildings adequate to accommodate student population? Because of construction which is now in progress and which will soon be completed, it is felt that the school buildings of Warren County are adequate to accommodate the present student population. In those areas in which the school census figures indicate future need for expanded facilities, long range plans will soon be in progress.

The Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction now requires that a long range developmental building plan be developed by districts by July 1, 1969.

There are no split or double shifts in Warren County Schools.

2. Are school buildings and grounds used for community recreation and other purposes? "Our schools are community centered schools." Besides being used by school affiliated organizations such as PTA, the schools and their grounds are used by civic and cultural groups, examples of which are Warren Concert Association, the Warren Players Club, Boy and Girl Scouts, Cub Scouts, Brownies, to name but a few.

3. Are there school attendance officers? How are they selected? What is the term of office? What are their salaries? The Warren County Schools do not have attendance officers in the sense of the former "truancy officer". Instead, the school district employs Home and School Visitors who are fully certified professional staff members with an educational background in sociology and psychology and whose salaries are commensurate with those of the teaching staff of the district and are based on the same criteria. Their function is to investigate and alleviate home-school problems before these problems lead to illegal pupil absence. In discharging their duties, the Home and School Visitors work closely with the available local social agencies. At the present time, the Warren County Schools employ two full time and two part time Home and School Visitors.

4. Is there a list of all children who come under the compulsory school law? Each school in the district has its own list of pupils, and it is anticipated that an over-all list for the county will be compiled in the near future.

What is the proportion of attendance? On any given day it is estimated that 95 percent to 96 percent of pupils are in attendance in district schools. These percentages indicate the high level of community interest in school attendance.

On September 9, 1966, there were 11,060 pupils enrolled in the 32 buildings of the Warren County School District. The follow-

Transportation

1. Is bus transportation provided? If so, how? How are bus contracts awarded? By whom?

Bus transportation is provided for an estimated 65 per cent of the pupils in Warren County. Bus contracts are awarded at rates set by the State of Pennsylvania on the basis of bids received. Existing contracts may be renewed through negotiation and at rates dependent on equipment provided. All bus contracts are awarded by the central office of the Warren County School District.

2. Do school buses meet all legal safety requirements? How often are they inspected? What qualifications are required of bus drivers?

School buses meet all legal safety requirements of the State of Pennsylvania. Each bus undergoes a special inspection in the month of August in addition to the two regular inspections of motor vehicles required by law. Each driver must pass a special Pennsylvania School Bus Operators driving test. Drivers must also pass an annual physical examination. Drivers are also required to carry at all times special identification cards.

From Our Corner

By LENORE MCINTYRE
ACTION A-PLenty

Most communities will say they are willing to do those things which will be of benefit to them, especially in the area of economic and social improvement. It remains to be seen just how sincere are Tidioute area residents in their willingness to cooperate.

Their first test will come next week when a "community action" meeting will be held on Thursday night at the school cafeteria. The meeting is sponsored by the Warren-Forest County Council of the Office of Economic Opportunity.

All residents of the area are urged to be present. It is especially important for elected or appointed officials and civic leaders to be among the assembled.

Some serious thinking about the Tidioute area's needs should be done in the next few days so that residents may have some suggestions to make. A local committee will be formed to work with the OEO Council to attempt to find solutions to at least some of our problems and needs.

We know we have problems and needs. What we don't know is how to go about meeting them because local financing is almost impossible.

This is where the Office of Economic Opportunity can serve us. It can help us define our needs and direct our efforts to the proper federal agency for further help and financing. It appears to be the best opportunity that has come our way "to help us help ourselves."

Housing undoubtedly is an acute problem. We need all kinds of housing: housing for the elderly, for middle-income families, for young couples just starting out. We need apartment units, single family dwellings, and double or duplex units. A Neighborhood Youth Corps could serve the community well.

There is enough work to be done to keep a number of able-bodied young men busy. An example may be found in the many old, falling-down buildings that should be razed for health and safety's sake, to say nothing of what their elimination would mean to the appearance of the town. Perhaps sidewalks that have needed attention for years could be replaced by this program.

We have in our midst many elderly people living on meager incomes and families with sub-standard incomes. There are services available through the OEO which can help them lift their standard of living.

At any rate, we certainly have nothing to lose by giving it a chance. That is, if we are really sincere about our willingness to improve conditions on a community level and if we are truly concerned about helping the under-privileged.

If we can get the OEO project off the ground, there may be some hope for another effort that is being talked up. This concerns a meeting of people from the Tidioute-Tionesta area to discuss recreational development along the river.

This plan would encourage private investment for the development of recreational facilities. An overall design probably would include access areas to the river; hunting, fishing, and camping accommodations, including trailer sites; and other facilities and services to attract sportsmen and vacationers and keep them happy and returning season after season.

Recreation is more and more readily recognized by the people of this area as our one avenue of economic salvation. We intend to protect what we have and improve it if possible.

For this reason there need be no fear that the black fly research project will have adverse effects. If the insect problem cannot be eliminated without harmful results to stream and river waters, fish, wildlife, vegetation, and helpful insects, then we will keep the pesky black flies and learn to live with them.

The research project is, after all, just what it says: a research study to learn more about the troublesome insect and if anything desirable can be done to control it. We do not propose to spray DDT willy-nilly, by hand, truck, or plane, nor take any drastic measures until we have expert advice on the subject.

That is why a Pennsylvania State University entomologist has been called in to study the problem. Tidioute welcomes all authoritative advice and is contacting areas with similar problems in our efforts to find a proper solution.

Local Restaurant
In Travel Guide

The Pittsburgher has been cited by Travelmats Corporation of America, Prairie du Chien, Wisconsin, as one of the outstanding traveler stops in this part of the country.

J. Alvin Druyor, president of Travelmats, the largest travel-study agency of its kind in the nation, made the announcement following inspection of the local facilities including location, maintenance, services and value received by customers.

The recognition includes a prominent listing in Travelmats' current official issue of Travel Guide, an international distributed book for tourists; and publication of a highway placemat which will pinpoint the tourist attraction's location here.

Recognition came only after study by Travelmat representatives who annually review tourist stops on more than 150,000 miles of the nation's major highways.

Local residents planning trips during the coming vacation seasons may benefit from this listing too, Druyor said. A copy of Travel Guide is available at the honored business place, either for loan or purchase.

Local residents as well as travelers will also enjoy reading the Travelmat placemats, Druyor predicted. In addition to helping call traveler-attention to the local businesses, these Travel Guides and placemats will help draw tourists to the area in general, he said. Curtis Furnish and William Harrington Jr., both of Tionesta, are proprietors of The Pittsburgher.

Spelling words were pronounced by Miss Jacqueline Maneval, school nurse, and judges were Mrs. Margaret Marshall, Plank Road school teacher; Mrs. Eva Dunham, Tidioute school; and Harold Guthrie, Tidioute principal.

The winner, John McGraw, will represent Tidioute in the county contest to be held later this month. There will be ten contestants from Warren county elementary schools in this spelling bee, the winner of which will compete later in a contest at Erie.

Ike Girl Athletes End Bowling Year

The Girl's Athletic Association at Eisenhower has finished 16 weeks of league bowling. The girls are looking forward to another active month of activities. There are 128 girls in four bowling leagues.

The number one team from each league is: Sugarbowl League, Wednesday, consisting of Norma Sweeney, captain; Ann Furlow; Amy Collins; and Debbie Peterson. The first place team at the Sugarbowl on Thursday night is Susie Fisk, captain; Debbie Lindell; Doris Young; and Cindy Melquist.

At the Bowladrome in North Warren on Thursday night, the lead team is Trudy Stanton, captain; Becky Webster; Debbie Briggs; and Penny Parks. The Saturday morning lead team consists of Cathy Gray, captain; Vicki Manelick; Virginia Barrett; and Susan Swanson. All four teams are to be congratulated on their efforts.

Trophies will be awarded to the top three teams of the Wednesday and Thursday leagues and to the top two teams on the Saturday league. These trophies will be awarded in the spring during the awards assembly.

The G.A.A. has started its girls' basketball intramurals. On Monday, March 6 at 3:30 there will be another game. The basketball teams stand as follows:

Kathy Peterson's team, first at 6-0; Susie Shields' team, second at 5-1; Norma Sweeney holds fourth with 2-4; Trudy Stanton's team holds fifth at 1-5.

The girls are planning their annual girls' intramural track with hopes of breaking some of their hard set records. They also have high hopes for a track invitational to which they could invite Warren County school and possibly some schools from New York State.

On March 9, the G.A.A. and the boys Volleyball team will hold a tournament. The boys will be holding the U.A.V.L. volleyball tournament during the afternoon and evening with possibly six schools attending. The G.A.A. is hoping to beat the Frewsburg girls in volleyball that same night at 6:30. The girls will be practicing for the game next Tuesday.

As you can see, the G.A.A. is a very active association at Eisenhower and they show great sportsmanship to all schools that visit our school for any of their intramurals.

Two-Year Plan Scheduled by Penn State Now

UNIVERSITY PARK — For many years educators have been concerned about providing a broad, general education for persons who couldn't afford or didn't want to spend a full four years away at college.

Now Pennsylvania State University has established such a program.

It is a two-year associate degree program in Letters, Arts and Sciences.

The objectives are to broaden a person's skills, understanding, and interests, and to help him or her become a more responsible, productive member of the family and community.

Penn State has been offering two-year associate degree programs since the 1950's, but all in technical fields. This is the first two-year associate degree program that is completely non-technical.

The program also offers sufficient electives for specialization according to the student's interests or career plans in such fields as science, humanities, social sciences, and the arts.

High Percentage

WASHINGTON — About one million American girls from 14 through 19 become mothers each year. Of the total, about 40 per cent are not married, according to the U. S. Children's Bureau.

Higher Ratio Of Students Under Draft

WASHINGTON (AP) — A higher ratio of college students and teen-agers would be drafted into military service under proposals submitted by a citizens committee to the House.

The committee, appointed by the House Armed Services Committee, urged Monday that draft boards concentrate on inducting more 19-and-20-year-olds before drafting men in higher age brackets.

The panel also recommended changing the law to limit draft exemption of graduate students to those training for critical professions or occupations.

All other college students would be deferred until they received their undergraduate degree or reached age 24, which ever came first. Then, except in special cases, they'd have the same induction status as the 19-20 age group.

Armed Services Committee spokesmen said the recommendations would be the basis for draft law revision hearings later this month or early in April.

NOT WIDESPREAD

'Nazi Club' at Oil City Squelched by Officials

Rumors that a so-called "Nazi Club" is flourishing at an Oil City high school are untrue, although a small gang of boys using Nazi-related symbols had been organized.

The rumors apparently became wide-spread after about three students attended a school function reportedly dressed in helmets and with swastikas.

A school official said that a few boys had been suspended from the school, but he blamed the suspensions on other reasons. He said "it so happened" that one or two of the boys were members of the organized gang.

After the Nazi group was started, another gang was also organized by a small group of students.

Reports had stated that the two gangs had planned to stage a fight at a location near Oil City.

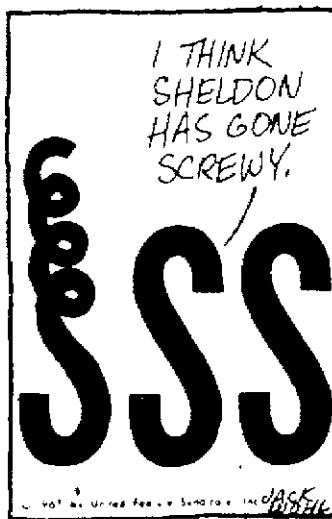

According to rumors, Franklin state police were called in to investigate this matter. Police, however, have denied the report.

There apparently were no incidents at the school, although one boy had complained of being "hit in the stomach," the official said.

He also reported that he had talked with the "ringleaders" of both gangs, and this apparently helped ease the possible explosive situation.

He also said he did not know whether police were called in order to quell the reportedly planned fight if it was started.

However, he also added that "if they were" investigating the matter, they might possibly be trying to "keep it quiet."

Apartment Life Going Coed; Business B. ms

NEW YORK (AP) — If you're married, forget it. If you're not, there's the Boston Tea Party in an old synagogue in Boston, the Never On Friday Club in Los Angeles, and the Sheri Plaza in Hollywood—an apartment house that advertises "We rent only to playgirls and playboys."

Bachelors — male and female — in their 20s and early 30s have moved to the big cities, leaving behind the corner drugstores and church socials. To replace these traditional meeting places, girl-meet-boy apartment houses, bars, resorts and other enterprises spring up for young singles from Manhattan's upper East Side to Southern California's beaches.

"It's the greatest untapped market in the country," says a Los Angeles apartment house developer. "People in the 21-35 age bracket have been neglected for too many years."

FOR SCHOOL SERVICE

Awards Assembly At Ike High Today

Today there will be an awards assembly at Eisenhower High School for the Lancers, Cheerleaders, Scorekeepers, Wrestlers, and Basketball players. The Lancers will march for this assembly in full uniform and will receive awards for this year's service to their school. There are 6 seniors that are serving their last year as a Lancer at this school.

The wrestling team will be awarded for their efforts this year against the opposing schools. Their record is 9 wins and 1 loss. The Ike wrestlers hold a first place standing. They are only in their third year of wrestling and already they have captured the Southern Tier Class B Wrestling Trophy. They looked a little green at the beginning of the year but they came out with a lot of know-how.

The basketball team will also receive awards. Although they did not do as well as was expected we here at Eisenhower are still proud of their fine efforts. Their record is 4 wins and 14 losses. They will be much better next year, as there will be a lot of good players coming back.

The cheerleaders will receive long-awaited, hard-worked-for awards. All this year, our cheerleaders have been behind our teams pushing them along to wins and holding them up on their losses. We take our hats off to a fine group of girls that have given of themselves to see their team praised. We only hope they carry with them happy thoughts and fond memories of their work on the football fields and hardwoods.

Last, but not least, come the scorekeepers. Without them what would we do. If anyone deserves an award for their hard work, it is the scorekeepers. They have to attend each game of the season. They have to always be ready when they are called on. The

Tidioute Bulldogs Close Out Season

The Bulldogs of Tidioute High School finished their seventeen game cage schedule at Youngsville this week. The Eagles dropped the Bulldogs 66-45 for the Tidioute boy's twelfth consecutive loss. The Bulldog Junior Varsity also lost, 61-24.

The Varsity's 1966-1967 overall record showed a 1-16 mark, being winless in twelve league contests.

The first game of the season on Friday, December 7, matched the Bulldogs against the Muskies of Jamestown, Penna. The outcome, although the Bulldogs shot 67 per cent from the field, was a 66-58 margin in favor of the Muskies. The Tidioute Junior Varsity, however, had posted a fine 35-15 victory in the prelim.

The Bulldog Varsity was defeated twice by hot-shooting Randolph-East Meade of Guys Mills, once by a score of 103-32, and again lost to the Muskies on our home court. The Bulldogs lost the second Jamestown game after a hard-fought battle, 68-57.

The Varsity's only win was a fine game against the Alumni, as the Bulldogs posted a 61-55 victory.

Our first league game was on our home floor against defending U.A.V.L. champion East Forest. The Bulldogs stayed close but were finally beaten by the sure shooting and size of the Bears. The final score was 79-44 in favor of the East Foresters. Our Junior Varsity squad met a similar fate as their two wins enroute to a 2-14 record were behind them.

Coach Jim Bodamer, in his first year at Tidioute, rated the game on Sparta's floor as our team's finest effort. The game, January 31, was a fast-breaking contest with high scoring on both sides. The Bulldogs outlasted the Spartans for three quarters, but Sparta's bench strength prevailed as the Bulldogs were defeated by a final score of 99-82. Bulldog fouls also contributed to the loss.

There were three Seniors on Tidioute's squad this season. Bob Bosko, the only letterman returning from last year's team, averaged twelve points per game including 22 markers on two occasions.

Bill Brown, 5' 10", played the backcourt along with Bosko and Junior Max Anderson. Bill also proved very helpful under the boards for his small stature.

Harry Hopkins, tallest man on the squad at 6' 4", was the Bulldog's top rebounder. Harry also scored an average of nine points on top of his 10 rebounds per game. Hopkins' high scoring output was 16 each against Jamestown, Pa., and Youngsville.

Ed Ziegler and Max Anderson complete the starting five. Both are Juniors.

Ziegler scored 224 points as he led the Bulldogs with a 13 plus average. The 6' 0" Junior scored 35 against Spartansburg and over 20 four times.

Max Anderson, a 5' 9" Junior, scored the majority of his points from the foul line. Max connected for 64 per cent of his free throws and led the team in that department. His high game was 11 points, all from the foul line.

Juniors Fritz Anderson and Glenn Lindemuth round out the varsity squad. Sophomore Jack Shields also saw varsity action.

Along with Lindemuth and Fritz Anderson; Juniors Don Parr and Paul Morrison and Sophomores Ron Carr, Tom Jamieson, and Pat Heenan formed our Junior Varsity Squad.

The Tidioute Junior High team sported the best record of the three teams at 5-5. Prior to last week their record stood at 5-3, but they lost two games to a very sharp North Clarion squad. West Forest, who lost only two games (both at the hands of North Clarion), defeated the little Bulldogs twice.

Mark Rondinelli, Bill Larimer, Ed King, Richard Bosko and Ed Vincent were freshmen members of the squad.

Eighth graders who saw action were Bill Shields, Bill Shanley, John Ziegler, Wade Adams and Jim Pillar.

Mr. Paul Ludwig is the Junior High coach.

Wins were few this season at Tidioute but the fans showed fine support for the team.

Varsity cheerleaders were Toni Wilson, Cindy Konkle, Janice McGraw, Cheryl Bosko, Laurie Alberth and Judy Yucha.

Junior Varsity and Junior High cheerers were Sandy Horne, Dixie Benner, Leah Barton, Steph Tipton, Nancy Johnson, and Peg Rondinelli.

Miss Maneval, the school nurse was the cheerleaders' advisor.

An added attraction at all of the Bulldogs' home games was the newly formed pep band. This group, organized by Mr. Bodamer, played at half-time and between games.

Although this season was a disappointment as far as winning was concerned, the Bulldogs showed fine sportsmanship and gained a wealth of experience that will be very beneficial to next year's squad. Maybe 1967-68 will be the season for the Bulldogs to move!

extremely attractive Mrs. Abigail Abbott is Tina Werlin. Tina is active in Student Council, Spanish Club, Pep Club, and F.B.L.A., and a member of the A Cappella Choir. Among Tina's interests are bowling and outdoor sports. Although Tina has a job, she still finds time for babysitting.

Nick Szeverenyi appears as Professor Michaels, an extremely good-looking man in his early thirties. Nick is a member of the German Club and is interested in building all sorts of objects. Interested in science, Nick placed second at the regional science fair in 1966.

Christie Petersen, who plays Susan, Abigail Abbott's eighteen-year-old daughter, has a variety of interests. Christie is a member of the German Club, the German Folksingers, the F.N.A., The Girls' Glee Club, and the G.A.A. Christie also enjoys singing folk songs, playing the guitar, riding horses, and swimming.

Matt Voigt portrays Beaumont "Bob" Jackson, a pleasant-looking but somewhat conceited chap who is trying to win Susan's affection. A member of the Ski Club, the Spanish Club, and the Junior Prom committee, Matt enjoys golf, swimming, baseball, basketball, and skiing. An avid swimmer, Matt has held the district record for the 100-yard breaststroke at the YMCA; as a golfer, he earned a letter his sophomore year.

Denny Lane plays the role of Dean Gillingham, the sixty-year-old Dean of Pointer College. A member of Tech Specs, Denny enjoys spinning records for the school dances. He also enjoys dramatics and football. Having studied dramatics for five years, he is well prepared for his part.

Patti Suppa portrays the house-mother, Mrs. Miller. Patti is a member of the F.T.A., the Spanish Club, the Student Council, and is publicity chairman of the Junior Class. Among Patti's interests are playing the guitar and supporting the various Dragon teams.

Phyllis Valone appears as Abigail's roommate Helen. Very active in school activities, Phyllis is a member of the German Club, the Ski Club, the Girls' Glee Club, the Color Guard, and is parliamentary for the F.T.A. She enjoys dancing, tennis, singing, swimming, and skiing. A talented dancer, Phyllis received a ten-year award from Beach Dance Studio.

Among Dee Dee's interests are ice skating, swimming, collecting stuffed animals, and twirling. Being a talented baton twirler, Dee Dee has won many awards.

Playing the part of Bill, another college student, is Rick Brewster, a member of the Varsity Club, the Spanish Club, and the Dragon Band. Rick enjoys all kinds of sports, especially football, track, and baseball.

Jane Musante, who portrays Sue's roommate Clara, is active in school affairs. She is a member of Student Council, the Spanish club, and the A Cappella Choir. A girl who enjoys many sports, Jane is also a talented pianist and guitarist.

Appearing as Marge, another college girl, is Betsy Griffin. Betsy belongs to the French Club and the F.T.A. She is a member of the A Cappella Choir and enjoys swimming, reading, and watching sports.

Mary Sandblade appears as the intellectual college sophomore Sylvia. Mary belongs to the Spanish Club and the Orchestra. She enjoys lifesaving at the YMCA and serving as a Candy Stripper at the hospital. A talented cellist, Mary will travel to Europe with the School Orchestra of America this summer.

The student producer of the play, whose job it is to organize the various committees necessary for production of the play, is Joan Nelson. She is a member of the Spanish Club, chairman of the Junior Class scrapbook committee, and will participate in the Gym Show. Joan lists horseback riding and golfing as her main interests.

She enjoys golfing, reading, spinning records, and working with under-privileged children.

Tickets for either performance may be purchased from any member of the Junior Class, the B & B Smoke Shop, United News, and at the door. The price of admission is 50 cents for students and 75 cents for adults, with curtain time scheduled for 8:15 p.m.

Eisenhower Key Club Show Set

Tonight is going to be a big night for the students at Eisenhower High School. The Key Club is planning a night of entertainment and gaiety. This is going to be a night of basketball that won't be forgotten by anyone.

Starting at 6:45, the champs of the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades will be playing a team of students from the sophomore and junior classes. Then, after this game comes the big attraction of the night. The Senior High Champs will compete against the Faculty. The Senior High kids are working hard because they want to beat the teachers. They even have their own coach—Senior Bill McFarland.

After the games, there will be a dance. The Key Club plans to introduce a few new ideas, so come and see what they have in store for you.

Let's Hear It

The Tidioute cheerleaders Club will sponsor a dance tonight at the Tidioute High School gymnasium.

ALLOWED TO TALK

Ike Tries New Study Hall

By CINDY GLOTZ
and MITZI BREZEE

Eisenhower High School has started a new study hall system which allows the students to talk to one another.

The study hall system was begun Feb. 13 and was explained to the student body beforehand by principal Fred Bauer.

The experiment is trying out two types of study halls. Type A will be for the students who need to study. It will be quiet, individual study where you are expected to sit by yourself and not move around. Type B is for students who want to study together. They sit in pairs or groups and talk and move about in moderation. Talking must be limited to school business.

The students will have the freedom of choice each day. They do not have to stay in the study hall they choose the first day.

Tom Bosko, representing the Student Council, commented that, "I feel it will be successful. It will be up to the students themselves to decide its success."

A few teachers have their views on this procedure. Some feel it will succeed, others don't think it will. Comments followed the same general pattern. They feel it will be a difficult adjustment for the students. They have been used to only a quiet study hall, and now they must reach a good medium where they can talk, but at a minimum.

The idea was taken from the Decatur-Lakeview and Abington High Schools. These schools were visited by a few of Eisenhower High's faculty earlier in the school year. The purpose of the visits was to study their techniques and bring back ideas which would benefit Eisenhower.

So far, we have two periods a day set aside for the experiment. First and seventh period were selected, probably because they had adequate room to divide the study hall during those periods.

The teachers seem to like the quiet study hall better, because of the excellent working conditions. It is good for heavy concentration. They seem to be working out well.

It is a general feeling that these study halls will only succeed if the students cooperate. The teachers are not there to be "policemen", but they are there instead, to maintain order and help the students when they need help.

It'll take time to get the study halls working to our satisfaction, but eventually, maybe in six or seven years, it'll be like a normal routine for the students here at E.H.S.

Six Ike Students In District Band

Six students from Eisenhower High School were chosen to participate in the District Band. Each year, a few students from each school in the district are chosen to form the District Band held at a different school each year.

This year there were four seniors, one sophomore, and one junior representing Eisenhower High. They were: Seniors: Sue Shields on Alto Clarinet; Dan Troxell on Tuba; Trudy Stanton on Bassoon; and Christine Stuart on String Bass. Junior, Lynn Burlingame played the Cornet and Sophomore, Doris Young played the French Horn. This was Christine's third time with the District Band.

The students left for Erie last Thursday accompanied by E.H.S. band director, Mr. Allen Searle.

The concert was presented at 8:00 p.m. on Friday and Saturday nights at Iroquois High School in Erie, Pennsylvania.

The six students stayed at homes in the Lawrence Park area near the high school Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

Senior, Trudy Stanton, merits a special congratulation for a job well done. Trudy, on the bassoon, attained first chair in that section ahead of the other players. Trudy, also, received the honor of going on to participate in the State Band, which is going to be held March 9, 10, and 11 in Davidville. Trudy is the only one in Warren County to be able to go on to the State Band.

Director of the band was James Dunlop. Dr. Dunlop is director of the Blue Band at Pennsylvania State University.
